The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

END OF 3-YEAR WAR IDEA

Canada is being cast in a major role of the new world-wide armaments expansion being organized by the British Ministry of Supply in co-operation with the Canadian Department of Munitions, London cables today.

As part of the new production policy, the British government has increased its orders for a wide range of munitions, ranging from tanks and bombers down to ammunition clips, being placed in the United States, Canada and other Dominions.

There are three reasons for this new expansion:

1. Munitions are urgently needed to replace those lost in France and Flanders when the British Expeditionary Force was evacuated and to equip the new army defending this country.

2. Air raids having started on a small scale in England, the British government as a measure of insurance has laid down the policy that munitions must be produced in Canada and other overseas countries beyond the range of the German air force to guarantee an uninterrupted flow.

3. The old leisurely policy which was in operation for the first nine months of hostilities, based on the theory that this was to be three-year war and that munitions should be planned on that scale, has been discarded and replaced by a policy of speed and urgency.

FRENCH FLEET

The Press Association in London said today in connection with Britain's seizure of French warships that "the present strength in main vessels of the French navy is stated to be over 180."

At the beginning of the war the French fleet had the following ships in commission:

Five capital ships, including the Dunkerque and the Strasbourg, which, pending the completion of new British and French 35,000-ton vessels, are the most modern and fastest capital ships in the world;

Seven 10,000-ton "A" cruisers with eight-inch guns;

Twelve "B" cruisers from 6,000 to 8,000 tons with speed between 34 and 40 knots.

Thirty-eight destroyers;

Thirty-seven escort vessels and similar small ships;

Thirty ocean-going submarines;

One aircraft carrier; and

A large fleet of auxiliary vessels.

These ships were manned by 4,900 naval officers, 17,000 warrant and petty officers and 65,000 able and ordinary seamen.

The day before the war began the French had under construction nearly 300,000 tons of warships — four 35,000-ton capital ships, two aircraft carriers, three light cruisers, 26 destroyers, 24 submarines, 26 escort vessels, 53 submarine chasers and motor torpedo boats and nine large oilers.

PLAYED ITS PART

France's naval losses in the war were negligible until the Dunkerque operations when she lost seven destroyers.

"Our Empire soldiers have been convoyed across the seas partly by French warships, which also have helped, sometimes alone, in bringing food supplies to Britain," a London statement said.

"A French admiral was in charge of convoying the second contingent of Canadians.

"A French cruiser co-operated in the protection of Australian and New Zealand troops on their way to Egypt.

"French auxiliary cruisers have taken regular part in patrols.

"Some fine work was achieved by French vessels in the Allies' efforts to block the German passage of troops to Norway and in addition there has been a day and night hunt for U-boats, constant protection of merchant shipping, and work helping to make the blockade of Germany as effective as possible.

"The French navy has stopped a huge amount of contraband and has added thousands of tons of merchant shipping to its total tonnage by capture alone.

"Its part in the Dunkerque evacuation will become one of the most glorious episodes in its history."

Mosley to Canada?

LONDON (CP)—Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary, told the House of Commons today the government was considering the removal of Sir Oswald Mosley and other imprisoned friends of Fascism to the Dominions to place them beyond the reach of rescue by possible invaders.

Final Bulletins

Bomb Kills 3 At New York Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—Three policemen were killed by a bomb disguised as a portable radio set behind the Polish pavilion at the New York World's Fair late today and several were wounded in the midst of thousands of panic-stricken Independence Day visitors.

It was estimated there were 168,000 persons on the fairgrounds.

The explosion of the grey, black-striped package blasted a hole five feet wide and two feet deep in the lawn behind the Polish building.

The bomb was found in the British pavilion and the bomb squad of police headquarters was notified at 2.40 p.m.

Meanwhile, the package was taken outside the British building to the lawn near the Polish exhibit, where it exploded as the detectives awaited the arrival of experts to examine it.

Demand Explanation

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Junior Board of Trade today passed a resolution demanding a full explanation from the federal government for the release of Joe Celona from the New Westminster penitentiary with five years of his 10-year term on a vice charge conviction still uncompleted.

An amendment was added to the resolution, congratulating James Sinclair, M.P. for North Vancouver, for bringing the question up in the House of Commons.

Defence Corps

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ten volunteer defence corps units are being formed by the Canadian Legion in Vancouver and more are being planned, it was announced today by Robert McNicol, secretary of the provincial headquarters of the Legion.

Rescued by Canadians

LONDON (CP) — The Canadian destroyer that took a large part in rescuing survivors of the torpedoed liner Arandora Star, crammed with German and Italian internees, was guided to the spot by a Sunderland flying boat, the Air Ministry announced this evening.

The third opportunity within two weeks for a unit of Canada's fleet to save lives came when the flying boat which had spotted 13 lifeboats full of survivors scattered about the scene, sped off and located the destroyer.

Offers Explosive

VANCOUVER (CP) — J. C. Laurie, a Vancouver chemist, has turned over to the Minister of Supply in Britain the formula of a new napthalene nitrate explosive on which he has been working since 1928, it was learned today.

The explosive is similar to nitroglycerine, but the chemist says it is more stable.

Sonia Henie Weds

CHICAGO (AP)—Friends of Sonia Henie, the blonde actress and ice skater, and Dan Topping, wealthy sportsman, said today the couple would be married here this afternoon.

New Naval Vessels Will Be Launched

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Canadian-built naval vessels will slide down the ways this week well ahead of scheduled launching dates, the Munitions and Supply Department announced this afternoon.

They are corvettes, formerly known as patrol vessels, and are to be launched at eastern Canadian ports. Built for the British Admiralty, they are part of the 82-ship program now progressing ahead of schedule. The first ship in the building program was launched in Montreal last week.

Corvettes are modern craft especially designed as submarine chasers and for escort work.

May Break Relations

LONDON (CP)—Predictions were heard in diplomatic quarters tonight that a rupture of diplomatic relations between Britain and the Petain government of France would follow the Anglo-French naval engagement off Oran, North Africa.

New Naval Task

LONDON (CP)—A colonial office statement tonight said Canada was offering to supply any additional personnel required for officering units of the French fleet now in British hands.

'Witnesses' Barred

OTTAWA (CP) — Jehovah's Witnesses were declared an illegal organization in an order-in-council tabled in the Commons this afternoon by Justice Minister Lapointe.

The witnesses are religious group which distributes tracts and carries on an active missionary campaign in other ways.

"I just can't understand why we have been declared illegal," said a member of the sect in Victoria this morning. "We are a law-abiding people—we obey the laws far bettter than a lot of people. We obey the laws of the land unless those laws come in conflict with the law of God."

Witnesses believe they owe allegiance to God and not to earthly kings or rulers. Many therefore refuse to take the oath of allegiance.

City police will take no action against Jehovah's Witnesses until formal notice of the order-in-council reaches here, Police Chief J. A. McLellan said. He said city authorities had not been notified, and probably would not be for two or three days, as was the case when similiar action was taken against Technocracy, Inc., headquarters of which throughout B.C. were raided by the police.

In Australia this week a member of Jehova's Witnsesses was sentenced to six months for refusing to take up arms.

In the United States, members have refused to salute the Stars and Stripes, claiming they owe allegiance to no earthly power. Several meeting houses in various states have been mobbed by crowds or raided and nearly everything done to members short of lynching.

The sect's radio broadcasts in Canada were banned 18 months ago on protest from the organized church in Quebec.

Telford Protests Freeing Of Former Vice King

VANCOUVER—Mayor Telford protested over the release of Joe Celona, 43-year-old former white slave king, known as the Al Capone of the Vancouver underworld and politics, as a ticket-of-leave man with six years of his 11-year prison term unserved.

Dugald Donaghy, K.C., special prosecutor in the sensational Celona trial of April, 1935, pointed out that his report to the Minister of Justice was strictly confidential and could only be released by the minister.

Mayor Telford said he is investigating the case locally and will lay his objections in writing before the Minister of Justice. He said he would protest emphatically against granting of leniency.

When Celona was sentenced, he said, it was after a jury trial, and the punishment was considered just. Celona is of enemy alien extraction, Mayor Telford declared, and this fact, together with his record does not make the manner of his release very acceptable to the citizens.

"We have a situation sufficiently complicated from a military standpoint without a further burden being added," the mayor said.

Celona was convicted by an assize court jury and sentenced by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald to a total of 22 years' imprisonment. The sentence was later reduced to 11 years by the Court of Appeal sitting in Victoria.

The original sentences were: Ten years, concurrently, on each of two counts of procuring; 10 years, consecutive, for living in part on the avails of prostitution; two years, consecutive, for keeping a bawdy house.

Celona was defended by Stuart Henderson, K.C., of Victoria, assisted by Angelo Branca and Henry Castillou.

British Squadron Battles French Mediterranean Fleet

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP)—In the most bizarre and melancholy naval battle of all time, a British battle squadron destroyed or disabled a big flotilla of French warships at Oran, North Africa.

Prime Minister Churchill told the story to the House of Commons and when he finished every man and woman in the crowded chamber rose and cheered and cheered.

The Prime Minister disclosed that a "large proportion" of the French fleet was in British control at Alexandria, Portsmouth, Plymouth and Sheerness, or put out of action by the Oran naval battle.

France's famed 26,500-ton Dunkerque. She escorted Canada's First Division to England early this year.

No Gift Fleet For Petain's Masters

Britain, he emphasized time and again, was determined never to permit the Petain government to hand over the French fleet to "their German masters." In British ports the navy took control of two French battleships, two light cruisers, a number of submarines, eight destroyers and 200 smaller vessels. At Alexandria the navy captured one battleship, four cruisers and a number of small vessels. Warned they would not be permitted to leave the harbor, these vessels joined British warships in fighting off an Italian air raid on Alexandria today.

The taking over was carried out practically without firing a shot, but at Oran, the French colonial port in North Africa, the French Admiral Gensoul was given six hours yesterday to make up his mind on five choices, which ranged from continuing to fight against the Germans to scuttling his fleet or taking the consequences from the big guns of the British warships covering his squadron.

Admiral Gensoul decided he would resist any attempt to take his ships and the British warships, under Vice-Admiral Sir James Somerville, started to fire when the time limit elapsed.

When the smoke of battle cleared away, marking the end of this strangest of naval engagements—a battle between former allies, a civil war of the seas—a battlecruiser of the Strasbourg class had been sunk, another of the same class was heavily damaged and two French destroyers and the seaplane carrier Commandant Teste had been sunk or burned.

Casualty

Will Not Fight Again For Long Period

The other of the two battlecruisers of the Strasbourg class got away to Toulon, but was hit by at least one torpedo by the fleet air arm and is expected to be out of action for many months.

The British battle squadron, which included the aircraft carrier Ark Royal and a cruiser force, apparently suffered no losses and, as the Prime Minister put it, "the Italian navy kept prudently out of the way." However, "we trust their turn will come during the operations we shall pursue."

Mr. Churchill said that the French at Oran fought "albeit in this unnatural action, with the characteristic courage of the French navy," but added that none of the British ships taking part in the action "was affected in gunpowder or mobility by the navy gun power directed on it."

Two French battleships, two light cruisers, some submarines, eight destroyers and 200 small mine-sweeping and anti-submarine craft were taken over in the ports of Portsmouth, Plymouth and Sheerness, the Prime Minister announced.

"Some other French ships are at large and it is our inflexible resolve to do everything possible to prevent them falling into German hands," the Prime Minister said.

Mr. Churchill concluded by saying the naval action taken by Britain would end lies spread abroad by Germany that the British had some intention of entering into negotations with the German and Italian governments for peace.

Tears and Cheers At Speech's End

Mr. Churchill finished his speech which was repeatedly interrupted by cheers, with tears in his eyes.

The most remarkable feature of the address was the demonstration Mr. Churchill received when he concluded. It was the sort of thing that staid Westminster seldom witnesses—members shouting, cheering and waving order papers. For Westminster, the scene bordered on the hysterical.

Immediately afterward the House began a secret sitting.

Many French Cheer As Ships Taken

It was said today that while French warships were being taken over at southern English ports yesterday, cheering was heard from some of the French vessels and that "many of the officers obviously were moved" by the seizure of their ships and the circumstances which necessitated it.

All French seamen were taken off their ships, it was said.

British Bag Enemy Bombers

R.A.F. Bombs Nazi Points While England Raided

LONDON (CP)—A joint Admiralty, Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security statement this evening said:

"Enemy aircraft today approached the channel coast. At Portland (naval station on the southern coast of England), a naval auxiliary vessel was hit and set on fire. One small tug and a lighter were sunk. Some damage was caused to buildings and there were a few civilian casualties.

"Another raid penetrated into the southwestern counties, bombs were dropped but no military objectives were hit and no casualties have been reported.

"Anti-aircraft guns opened fire and fighters were in action at several points.

"Reports so far received show that one enemy bomber has been brought down by our fighter patrols.

Nazi Fliers Lose 7 or More Planes

"It is now confirmed that seven enemy bombers were shot down in raids over this country yesterday."

It was stated six more German planes were damaged so severely it is unlikely they were able to return to their bases.

From various points reports told how anti-aircraft batteries went into action in southeast England this morning as three German raiders crossed the coast and flew inland at a great altitude.

Two heavy detonations were heard.

At another southeastern point a lone raider flew over a town and disappeared. Townspeople took shelter, but no gunfire was heard and no bombs fell.

Earlier in the day, German warplanes had flown over a southwest England district.

Raiding Plane Chased to Sea

A British fighter also took the air from a northeast coast airdrome when an unidentified plane, believed German, crossed into England, but soon afterwards flew out to sea.

This morning a German plane appeared near a town in northeast England, dived low and machine-gunned the ground. Two high-explosive bombs dropped without damage or casualties.

Later reports said German planes dropped several bombs on a southwest coast town before they were engaged by Spitfire fighter planes and chased out to sea. Watchers said it appeared two German planes of the group of about 20 were shot down.

7 KILLED, 77 HURT

During yesterday's raids the first German bombing of a moving train in Great Britain killed the engineer with bomb fragments.

Seven persons were reported killed and 77 wounded in the day's aerial attacks, putting the 24-hour total of air raid casualties at 20 dead and 197 wounded.

R.A.F. Men Pound German Centres

An Air Ministry communique today said:

"During yesterday R.A.F. bombers carried out daylight attacks on enemy oil plants, lines of communication, and storage depots. Concentrations of barges near Rotterdam and Schoolhooven were bombed.

"The airdromes of Evere in Belgium and Ypenburg in Holland were also attacked and troop carrying and other aircraft on the ground were set on fire. Others were damaged. All our aircraft returned safely.

"During the night, in spite of unfavorable weather conditions, the airdromes of Aachen in Germany, Dekooy in Holland, and Merville in France were attacked. One of our aircraft is missing.

"A German high command communique claims 75 British aircraft have been destroyed between June 23 and July 4 inclusive. Actually, as already announced by the air ministry, a total of 30 of our aircraft have been lost by enemy action during this period. On the other hand, the enemy only admits the loss of 12 aircraft, whereas the R.A.F. have in fact destroyed 40."

Enemy Planes Destroyed on Ground

A later bulletin said squadrons of British planes bombed railway junctions and sidings at Neuminster, South of Kiel, Osnabruck, Lunen and Hamburg early today.

A direct hit was scored on a group of hangers at the Brussels airdrome, which immediately burst into flames, the communique said. Five Junkers bombers and other aircraft were believed hit.

British planes also bombed the Hague airport and left three German planes burning, the ministry said.

Another contingent of trained Canadian airmen arrives in England just as air warfare is intensified over the British Isles.

Ready to Go Into Action

No Soccer Playoffs

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sam Davidson, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Football Association, today announced cancellation of the Dominion football playoffs for this year. The decision to cancel the playoffs was reached after an investigation of provincial play-down gate receipts by the association council.

In the qualifying series the attendances in some provinces showed decreases of 50 per cent, said Davidson in a statement. "Our association is not in a position to stand this loss."

More Prisoners Coming

LONDON (CP)—It was officially disclosed this evening that additional German prisoners of war, and German and Italian internees will be taken to Canada and Newfoundland shortly.

Churchill Tells of Action Against French Fleet

Italian Navy Next, He Warns

LONDON (AP)—The text of Prime Minister Churchill's statement in the House of Commons today follows:

It is with sincere sorrow that I must now announced to the House the measures which we have felt bound to take in order to prevent the French fleet from falling into German hands.

Sir (addressing the Speaker), when two nations are fighting together in long and solemn alliance against a common foe, one of them may be stricken down and overwhelmed and may be forced to ask its ally to release it from its obligation, but the least that could be expected was that the French government, in abandoning the conflict and leaving its whole weight to fall upon Great Britain and the British Empire, would have been careful not to inflict needless injury upon their faithful comrade in whose final victory the sole chance of French freedom lay and lies.

Release Offered If Fleet Sent

As the House will remember, we offered to give full release to the French from their treaty obligations—although they were designed precisely for the case which arose—on one condition, namely, that the French fleet should be sailed for British harbors before separate armistice negotiations with the enemy were held.

This was not done, but on the contrary, in spite of every kind of private and personal promise and assurance given by Admiral Darlan to the First Lord and his naval colleagues an armistice was signed which was bound to place the French fleet as effectively in the power of Germany and its Italian following as that portion of the French fleet which was placed in our power, when many of them, being unable to reach French ports, came into the harbors of Portsmouth and Plymouth about 10 days ago.

But I must place on record that what might have been a mortal injury was done to us by the Bordeaux government with full knowledge of the consequences and of the dangers, and after rejecting all our appeals at the moment when they were abandoning the alliance and breaking the engagement fortified it.

400 Nazi Pilots Returned to Hitler

This was another example of the callous and perhaps even malevolent treatment which we received, not indeed, from the French nation, who have never been and apparently never are to be consulted in these transactions, but the treatment which we received from the Bordeaux government.

There were over 400 German air pilots who were prisoners in France, many of them shot down by the R.A.F. I obtained from M. Reynaud a personal promise that these pilots should be sent for safe-keeping to England, and orders were given by him to that effect, but when Reynaud fell these pilots were delivered over to Germany (cries of "Shame") in order no doubt to win favor for the Bordeaux government with the German masters and to win it without regard to the injury done to us.

The German air force already feels acutely the shortage of high grade pilots, and it seems particularly odious that these 400 skilled men should be handed over with the sure knowledge that they would be used to bomb this country and thus force our airmen to shoot them down a second time.

Such wrongful deeds will not, I am sure, be condoned by history and I firmly believe a generation of Frenchmen will arise who will clear the national honor of all countenance of them.

Cabinet Decided Unanimously

I said last week that we must now look with particular attention to our own salvation. I have never in my experience seen so grim or sombre a question as what we were to do about the French fleet discussed in the cabinet.

And it shows how strong were the reasons for the course we thought it our duty to take that every member of the cabinet had the same conviction about what should be done, that there was not the slightest hesitation or divergence among them and that the three service ministers, as well as men like the Minister of Information (Duff Cooper) and the Secretary of State for the Colonies (Lord Lloyd) (particularly noted for their long friendship with France) when they were consulted were equally convinced that no other decision was possible from that which we were taking and it was a decision to which, with aching hearts but with clear vision, we unitedly came.

Accordingly, early yesterday morning, July 3, after all preparations had been made, we took the greater part of the French fleet under our control (cheers) or else called upon them with an adequate force to comply with our requirements.

Two battleships, two light cruisers, some submarines, including a very large one, the Surcouf, eight destroyers and approximately 200 smaller but extremely useful minesweeping and anti-submarine craft which lay for the most part in Portsmouth and Plymouth were boarded by superior forces after a brief notice had been given, wherever possible, to their captains. (The Surcouf, described as the largest submarine in the world, of an experimental type not repeated in other naval programs after her completion in 1934, is 361 feet long and displaces 2,880 tons on the surface and 4,300 tons submerged.)

Surcouf Men Only Resisters

This operation was successfully carried without resistance or bloodshed, except in one instance. A scuffle arose through a misunderstanding in the submarine Surcouf in which one British seaman was killed and two British officers and one rating were wounded, and one French officer was also killed and one wounded.

For the rest, the French sailors in the main cheerfully accepted the end of a period of uncertainty. A considerable number—800 or 900—expressed an ardent desire to continue the war.

Some have asked for British nationality. This we are ready to concede without prejudice to other Frenchmen, numbered by thousands, who prefer to fight with us as Frenchmen.

All the rest of these crews will be immediately repatriated to French ports, if the French government are able to make arrangements for their reception by permission of their German rulers. We are also repatriating all French troops within this country, excepting those who, of their own free will, have volunteered to follow Gen. de Gaulle and to enlist in the French forces of liberation of whom he is the chief.

Several French submarines have also joined us independently and we have accepted their services.

Now I turn to the Mediterranean at Alexandria, where a strong British battle fleet is lying. There are, besides French battleships, four French cruisers, three of them modern 8-inch gun vessels, and a number of smaller ships. These have been informed that they cannot be permitted to leave the harbor and thus fall within the power of the German conquerors of France.

Negotiations and discussions have taken place and measures have now been taken to ensure that those ships which are commanded by a very gallant admiral shall be sunk or otherwise made to comply with our wishes. The anguish which this process has naturally caused to the British and French officers concerned may be readily imagined when I inform the house that only this morning during the air raid on Alexandria some of the French ships fired heavily and effectively with us against the common enemy.

We shall of course offer the fullest facilities to all French officers and men at Alexandria who wish to continue the war and we shall provide for them and maintain them, and we have promised to repatriate the rest.

Fleet at Oran Heard Terms

But the most curious part of the story remains. Two of the finest vessels of the French fleet—the Dunkerque and the Strasbourg, modern battlecruisers—much superior to the Scharnhorst and Gnesenau and built for the purpose of being superior to them, lay with several light cruisers and a number of destroyers, submarines and other vessels at Oran and the adjacent Mers el Kebir on the French frontier of Morocco.

Yesterday morning a carefully chosen British officer—Captain Holland, late naval attache at Paris, was sent on in a destroyer to wait upon the French Admiral Gensoul and after being refused an interview put before him a document of which I will read to the house the operative paragraphs:

(Reading) "It is impossible for us now to allow your fine ships to fall into the power of our German or Italian enemies. We are determined to fight to the end, and if we win, as we think we shall, we shall never forget that France was our ally and that our interests are the same as hers, and that our common enemy is Germany.

"And we solemnly declare that we shall restore her territory to France. For this purpose we must make sure that the best ships of the French navy are not used against us by the common foe.

"In these circumstances His Majesty's government have instructed me to demand that the French fleet now at Mers el Kebir and Oran shall act in accordance with one of the following alternatives:

"A. Sail with us and continue to fight for victory against the Germans and Italians.

"B. Sail with reduced crews under our control to a British port. The reduced crews will be repatriated at the earliest possible moment.

Restoration Of Ships Offered

"C. If either of these courses is adopted by you, we will restore your ships to France at the conclusion of the war or pay full compensation if they are damaged meanwhile.

"Alternatively, if you feel bound to stipulate that your ships are not to be used against the Germans or Italians unless they break the armistice conditions, then sail with us with reduced crews to some French port in the West Indies — Martinique, for instance, where they can be demilitarized, or be perhaps entrusted to the United States and remain safe until the end of the war, the crews being repatriated to France.

"If you refuse these fair offers, I must, in with profound regret, require you to sink your ships within six hours. Failing the above, I have the orders of the government to use whatever force may be necessary to prevent your ships from falling into German or Italian hands."

(Resuming speech) Sir, we had hoped one or other of the alternative which we presented would have been accepted without the necessity of using the terrible force of a British battle squadron. Such a squadron arrived before Oran two hours after Capt. Holland and his destroyer. This battle squadron was under the command of Vice-Admiral Somerville, an officer who distinguished himself lately in bringing off 100,000 Frenchmen during the evacuation of Dunkerque.

This officer was further provided with strong flotillas of smaller ships. All day the parleys continued and we hoped that, until the afternoon, our terms would be accepted without bloodshed. However, no doubt in obedience to orders dictated by Germany from Wiesbaden, where the Franco-German commission are in session, Admiral Gensoul refused to comply and announced his intention of fighting.

Admiral Somerville was therefore ordered to complete his mission before darkness fell.

Shore Batteries Join in Battle

At 5.58 p.m. he opened fire on this powerful French fleet, which was protected by its shore batteries. At 6 p.m. he was heavily engaged. The action lasted for some 10 minutes.

It was followed by heavy attacks from our naval aircraft carried on the Ark Royal. At 7.30 Admiral Somerville forwarded a further report stating that a battlecruiser of the Strasbourg class was damaged and ashore, and that a battleship of the Bretagne class had been sunk, another of the same class heavily damaged. Two French destroyers and a seaplane carrier (Commandant Teste) were also sunk or burned.

While this melancholy action was being fought the other battlecruiser of the Strasbourg class, the Dunkerque, or another, managed to slip out of harbor in a gallant effort to reach Toulon or north African ports, and place herself under German control, in accordance with the armistice terms of the Bordeaux government.

She was pursued by aircraft of the fleet air arm and hit by at least one torpedo. She may have however, been joined by other French vessels from Algiers during the night, for these vessels were well placed to join her and the whole were able to reach Toulon before we could overtake them.

The Dunkerque will, at any rate, be out of action for many months to come.

I need hardly say that the French ships were fought, albeit in this unnatural action, with the characteristic courage of the French navy. Every allowance should be made for Admiral Gensoul and his officers who felt themselves obliged to obey the orders which they had received from their government and could not look behind that government to see the German dictator.

I fear that the loss of life among the French and in the harbor must have been heavy as we were compelled to use a very severe measure of force and immense explosions were heard.

None of the British ships taking part in the action was effected in gun power or mobility by the heavy gun power directed on it.

I have not received reports of our casualties, but Admiral Somerville states that the fleet is in all military respects intact and ready for further action

Ready for Drive Against Italy's Fleet

The Italian navy, for whose reception we had also made preparations and which is considerably stronger numerically than the fleet we used at Oran, kept prudently out of the way. However, we trust their turn will come during the operations we shall pursue to secure effectual command of the Mediterranean.

A large proportion of the French fleet has therefore passed into our hands or has been put out of action or otherwise withheld from Germany by yesterday's events.

The House will not expect me to say anything about the other French ships which are at large except that it is our inflexible resolve to do everything possible in order to prevent them from falling into German hands (cheers).

Leaves Judgement To History

I leave the judgment of our actions with confidence to Parliament (cheers); I leave it to the nation; I leave it to the United States of America; I leave it to history; and I turn now to the immediate future. We must, of course, expect to be attacked or even invaded, if that proves to be possible—it has not proved so yet—in our island home before very long.

We are making every preparation in our power to repel the assaults of the enemy, whether they be directed on Great Britain or Ireland, which all Irishmen, without distinction of creed or party, should realize is in imminent danger.

These again are matters upon which we have clear views. These preparations are constantly occupying our toil from morn till far into the night, but although we have a clear view, it could not, I think be profitable for us to discuss this matter in public, or even, so far as the government is concerned, except under very considerable reserve, in a private session.

I call upon all subjects of His Majesty and upon our allies and our well-wishers—and there are not a few—all over the world, on both sides of the Atlantic, to give us their utmost aid.

In the fullest harmony with our Dominions we are moving through a period of extreme danger and of splendid hope, when every virtue of our race will be tested and all that we have and are will be freely staked.

This is not a time for doubts or weaknesses. This is the supreme hour to which we are called.

I will venture to read to the House a message which I caused to be sent to all who are serving in positions of importance under the crown, and if the House should view it with sympathy, I should be very glad to send a copy to every member for his own use—not that such exhortations are needed.

Air Force and Navy Both at Peak

This is the message (reading) "On what may be the eve of an attempted invasion or battle for our native land, the Prime Minister desires to impress upon all persons holding responsible positions in the government, in the fighting service, or in the civil departments, their duty to maintain a spirit of alert and confident energy. While every precaution must be taken that time and means afford, there are no grounds for supposing that more German troops can be landed in this country, either from the air or across the sea, than can be destroyed or captured by the strong forces at present under arms.

"The Royal Air Force is in excellent order and at the highest strength it has yet attained. The German navy was never so weak nor the British army at home so strong as now. The Prime Minister expects all His Majesty's servants in high places to set an example of steadiness and resolution. They should check and rebuke expressions of loose and ill-digested opinion in their circles or by their subordinates.

"They should not hesitate to report or, if necessary, remove any officers or officials who are found to be consciously exercising a disturbing or depressing influence, and whose talk is calculated to spread alarm and despondency. Thus alone will they be worthy of the fighting men who in the air, on the sea, and on land, have already met the enemy without any sense of being outmatched in martial qualities."

Premier Spikes Lies About Peace Moves

(Resuming speech). In conclusion, I feel that we are entitled to the confidence of the House, and that they should sincerely and readily believe that we have not failed in our duty, however painful it may have been. The action we have already taken should, in itself, be sufficient to dispose once and for all of all the lies and rumors which have been so industriously spread in the United States and elsewhere by German propaganda, and which you meet

1,000 Drown, 1,000 Saved From Prison Ship

Savagery and Horror Unbridled as Arandora Star Sinks

LONDON (CP)—Estimates of loss of life in Tuesday's torpedoing of the internment ship Arandora Star ranged upward today from 1,000 and the first survivor to reach London described the vessel's decks as a "sea of faces as she went down."

A torpedo, fired from a German submarine, ripped the one-time luxury liner open off the west coast of Ireland as she plied toward Canada with 1,500 Italians and Germans interned after the outbreak of war.

USED FISTS AND TEETH

It was believed that at least 800 Germans and Italians lost their lives during a panic in which they fought each other with fists, nails and teeth in a wild scramble to reach lifeboats.

About 1,000 survivors were landed yesterday at a west Scottish port, leaving roughly 1,000 missing. About 200 of the missing were believed to be members of the crew and soldiers assigned to guard the aliens on their way to Canadian internment camps

The sinking of the 15,501-ton vessel was the greatest passenger ship disaster since the Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine May 7, 1915, with a loss of 1,198 lives.

EARLIER SINKINGS

(On February 26, 1916, the French auxiliary cruiser Provence, with 4,000 aboard, was sunk in the Mediterranean, and only 870 were saved.

(The greatest previous passenger ship disaster of the present war was the sinking of the British liner Athenia by a German submarine September 3, 1939, with 113 lives lost.

(Only 36 officers and men survived the sinking in the North Sea on June 8 last of the aircraft carrier Glorious, which had a normal complement of 1,216.)

The owners of the Arandora Star announced a "fair proportion" of the crew was saved.

Martin Verinder, first survivor to reach here, said: "The Germans and Italians were frightful and the soldiers and crew had to threaten them."

Hundreds Killed By Torpedo Blast

Several hundred of the aliens were believed to have been killed outright by the blast of the torpedo, which struck at about 6 in the morning without warning while most of the passengers were still in bed.

Pale from his ordeal, Verinder said bitterly of the internees: "If they had not panicked so completely many more men, particularly Englishmen, would have escaped."

"As they rushed lifeboats with the idea every man for himself," he related, "soldiers and crew had to threaten them. I even saw one German sailor, who seemed to have a lot more sense than the rest, take a rifle and club his compatriots.

WOLFED FOOD

"In lifeboats internees were selfish too, and when a plane dropped bread or bully beef they grabbed it and a few started to wolf it between them as fast as they could. Soldiers had to seize it from them before it could be shared evenly between us."

Verinder said the explosion smashed two lifeboats. "Last I saw of Captain E. W. Moulton," he said, "was when he coolly asked a man to fetch him a glass of water. The man brought him a coat as well. The bridge was protected with barbed wire and I knew as I saw him standing there that the captain would never get away."

Suitcases Cut From Italians' Hands

He continued: "Some of the Italians tried to take large suitcases with them in the boats and simply did not seem to understand there was room only for men. The soldiers and crew had to cut the handles off the cases to make them drop them.

"I saw the ship's doctor, apparently wounded in the leg, stand up and salute the ship and the captain as the vessel sharply turned half over and sank within two minutes of about 7 a.m.

"The decks were like a sea of faces as she went down and I could see windlasses and other objects moving into the crowd of men as she made her final keel over. A cloud of steam rose 100 feet into the air and the suction dragged rafts and men underneath with her. I shall never forget those horrors."

Verinder said the crew of the rescuing ship (not identified in this dispatch) were "wonderful." They gave up "bunks, clothes, food, everything they had."

He disclosed that a quarrel had broken out between Germans and Austrians the first day out when the Austrians objected to the Germans erecting a Nazi flag in the deck space allotted to internees. They were separated as they began to fight.

Purser on Bridge As Ship Sinks

James Frost, another member of the crew, related he had seen the purser standing at attention on the bridge, "refusing to make the slightest effort to save himself."

Frost said: "The panic on deck was terrible, Italians and Germans rushing about, but I felt sorry for the Italians, whose average age was about 60. They didn't know what to do and many of them hung on to the ship for dear life. Some of them were quite British, having lived in England all their lives.

"There were a dozen lifeboats for nearly 2,000 people," Frost said, and "one boat was carried away in the explosion. Another was weighed down with hundreds of people trying to get away in it, and smashed to pieces with the davits rolling down on top of them."

Frost, whose boat was the last to leave, said the soldiers fired their rifles as a warning to keep away the Italians who "were fighting on deck and trying to clamber down the lifelines. Otherwise our boat would have suffered the same fate."

Many Hesitated And Were Trapped

Many who hesitated to jump overboard were trapped when the liner sank by the stern, Frost said. "All the time we were picking up survivors from rafts and wreckage in the sea, some of them covered with oil."

"We saw several Italian beating off with their fists and even with their teeth men trying to climb aboard rafts on which they were floating," Frost added.

He said 100 survivors in one lifeboat sang "It's a Lovely Day Tomorrow" as they pulled toward a message dropped from a circling plane. The message, saying "Keep your chins up, help coming along, sorry can't land," was attached to a parcel containing one loaf of bread, a pound of butter, a can of bully beef, a can of salmon and cigarettes.

Frost said the party then sang "Pennies From Heaven."

200 Germans Below Decks

Second Cook Clegg told how he fought his way out of the wrecked and blazing galley to deck, where a "couple of Germans rushed at me, asking me to save them and take them with me. There was no time for ceremony. I hit both of them so hard they went flying overboard. Then I dived in myself." Clegg, who had no lifebelt, said "about 200 Germans were down below. They must have gone down with the ship."

Another member of the crew said: "It would have been a good thing if the officers had been armed with Tommy guns. That would have been the only thing to stop them from panicking."

U.S. Starts With $120,674,733 Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Treasury started off its new fiscal year with a deficit of $120,674,733 on the first day.

Figures for July 1, now available, showed this initial excess of spending which, due chiefly to the defence program, may rise to more than $4,000,000,000 in the next 12 months.

The fiscal year opening was marked also by the increase of the public debt to more than $43,000,000,000. The debt, the limit of which recently was raised from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000, stood at a record high at $43,061,138,000.

Australian Wheat 57,000,000 Bushels

SYDNEY (CP) — Australia's wheat carryover at the end of the present season was officially estimated today at 57,000,000 bushels, which will strain storage facilities.

As a consequence of the shipping shortage the government is contemplating buying neutral ships as it has abandoned the project of building merchantmen in order to give preference to the more urgent need for smaller types of naval vessels for the British navy. Four war prize ships already are in use.

Farmers are still without guidance in the matter of sowing, a majority have not heavily reduced their wheat sowings.

B.C. EMPLOYMENT GAINS RAPIDLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Important expansion in industrial employment during May is noted in the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' monthly report on the Canadian employment situation.

Staffs of 12,091 reporting establishments aggregated 1,183,210 employees June 1, compared with 1,118,232 May 1, and 1,098,908 employed by 11,718 firms June 1 last year.

Largest gains reported in the various industrial groups were those of 26,768 employees in construction and maintenance and 17,999 in manufacturing.

An aggregate working force of 99,033 was reported in British Columbia compared with 94,908 a month before and 92,926 a year before.

Canada Bars 117 U.S. Periodicals

OTTAWA (CP)—Entry of 117 United States periodicals into Canada has been banned since the start of the war and eight or 10 others are in process of being excluded, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons in answer to a question from T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto Broadview.

Mr. Church asked specifically about the Chicago Tribune and the Saturday Evening Post, alleging they had carried articles detrimental to the prosecution of the war.

In all 180 periodicals from all countries and a quantity of books, pamphlets, circulars and other material were refused admission to Canada since the start of the war.

COLLIER'S OFFENCE

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas H. Beck, president of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company, said he had not been informed officially that distribution of Collier's Weekly magazine of June 8 had been banned in Great Britain.

A dispatch from London yesterday announced the ban and said it apparently was due to censorship for an unannounced cause.

Beck said an article in the June 8 edition, entitled "India Won't Wait," predicted India would not wait for settlement of the war before seeking a settlement of her own differences with Great Britain.

U.S. Shingle Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt has signed a measure giving the federal government the right, which was reserved in the trade treaty with Canada, to impose a duty on red cedar shingles.

The duty may be imposed at a rate of not more than 25 cents a hundred square feet on all shingles imported in any calendar year in excess of 30 per cent of the annual average for the three preceding years of the combined total of domestic shipments and imports

Canadian Soldiers To Send Mail Free

OTTAWA (CP)—Members of Canada's fighting forces now in the United Kingdom probably will be able to send mail back to Canada free of postage before long.

In the British House of Commons today, Postmaster-General Morrison said he was communicating with the Dominion authorities respecting this proposed free mail.

It was explained here arrangements had been made previously for troops to send mail free of postage from any theatre of war. France had been considered such a theatre of war, but since the capitulation of the republic, the United Kingdom has been placed in this category by post office officials.

Lord Tarbat Missing

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Tarbat, 36, captain in the Seaforth Highlanders, has been officially posted as missing.

4,104 BUFFALO AND DEER KILLED

OTTAWA (CP)—At the recent slaughter of surplus buffalo and other animals in western national parks 4,104 animals were killed, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons in answer to a question from R. H. McGregor, Conservative, East York, Ont.

At Buffalo National Park 2,918 buffalo, 113 moose, 1,806 elk and 242 deer were killed, while 18 buffalo were killed at Riding Mountain National Park and seven at Prince Albert National Park.

A sum of $60,509 was realized from the sale of meat and hides at Buffalo National Park. The meat was sold by tender to Canada Packers at $5.75 a hundredweight for choice quality, $4.75 for other good and top medium grade and $2.50 for aged and boner quality suitable only for processing.

All other meat was made available for Indian relief.

At Buffalo National Park 500 specially selected buffalo hides were reserved for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The contractor, Canada Packers, took the balance at $1.50 each regardless of siz or condition.

All elk, moose and deer hides were reserved for Indian relief and will be used in the Indian handicraft industries.

Hanson Advocates Closer Censorship

OTTAWA (CP)—Press releases from the office of the director of public information should be carefully reviewed by some superior authority before being issued, the Conservative leader, R. B. Hanson, declared in the House of Commons.

Mr. Hanson complained especially about a release dated June 29 describing use of parachute troops in modern war.

He said he could imagine nothing more calculated to frighten people at this time. He asked whether such releases were necessary and whether they were passed by the censors.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he would look into the matter.

German Losses Placed at 400,000

LONDON (CP) — British military circles estimated today that Germany's total casualties since May 10, when Germany launched her westward drive against the Lowlands and France, have been about 400,000.

(On July 2 the German high command placed the Nazis' total casualties since May 10 at 156,492. These figures represented, the high command said, 27,074 killed, 111,034 wounded and 18,384 missing.

(Private estimates have placed the French dead, wounded and missing at 1,500,000 in the last month of her hostilities.)

These circles, pointing to German official figures of 10,000 killed between May 10 and June 4 and 17,000 killed between June 5 and June 25, said, "the general conclusion is that German official figures are not worth very much."

The 400,000 estimate included casualties of all kinds except prisoners subsequently released.

25 Years Ago

JULY 4, 1915

LONDON — Fighting on the Russian-Germanic front today still held the interest of military observers as the greatest immediate problem of the World War. Smashing heavily against the Russian centre, General von Mackenzen was striking in an effort to drive through to Warsaw.

OTTAWA—The Canadian casualty lists reached a total of 9,829. Of these 1,658 have been reported as killed, 6,405 as wounded and 1,766 as missing.

Victoria soldiers in the latest casualty list include Lieut. E. K. Colbourne, died of wounds; Pte. L. G. Plumbley, 7th Bn.; and Pte. L. W. King, 7th Bn.; wounded; and Pte. A. Guilbridge, 7th Bn., prisoner.

While it has not been officially announced, it is said that Willis Butler will be in charge of the Victoria ball team hereafter, after the release of Marty Nye from the position of manager.

French Treachery Foiled

IF THIS WAS A STRANGE WAR A FEW months ago, and we were assured it was, the narrative with which Mr. Churchill regaled the House of Commons this afternoon has won a unique place in history. Until comparatively recent days we had begun to believe in the philosophy of the Maginot Line. Expert military strategists evolved all sorts of theories as to how the stalemate could be broken. They hinted at new formulas, so certain were they that not even Hitler's reckless disregard for human life would induce him to send his armies against this magnificent barrier on which France steadfastly depended for her security, and the Nazi chief's designs on the Low Countries became practically legendary. Not until Denmark and Norway got a taste of German resolution, when necessity began to drive the Reich, did the world learn that the war was not a strange one after all. Then Hitler's legions followed the course taken by the Kaiser's legions in 1914. We know the rest.

The events of the last day or so, however, have produced the strangest of all wars—for the time being, at any rate. Mr. Churchill has informed the world, for that is precisely what it means, that part of the British Navy has had to fight part of the French navy to prevent French battle craft from coming under the control of Germany and Italy. What must have been racing through the mind of the Prime Minister as he gave his fellow members chapter and verse of the most extraordinary and tragic stories of all time can be better imagined than described. Only a few weeks ago, comparatively speaking, nothing on the surface of the relationship between the two Allies seemed to threaten their joint resolve or appeared to qualify in the slightest particular their stolid determination to face the hazardous days ahead of them with the traditional courage and fortitude they displayed in the face of the most trying ordeals of the first Great War. Then came the break through at Sedan, the removal of Gamelin, the "incident" at Dunkerque, the retirement of Reynaud, and the advent of the Bordeaux government under the premiership of Marshal Petain. We know the rest of this phase.

What Britain never expected—nothing she had done or left undone could have anticipated it—was a complete sell-out by the government headed by Petain and supported by men who have betrayed the vast majority of the citizens of France. Happily for the latter, however, a large number of the ships for which the French people provided the money, in the hope they would help to guarantee their security against their traditional foe, will not be used to further the political philosophy whose triumph on French soil is destined to keep them in servitude for some time to come. Many of these fighting craft, on the other hand, will now be employed by Great Britain in their behalf. For the British people very certainly will differentiate between the treacherous Petain government, which does not speak for the real France, and the French peasant, the source of the Republic's wealth and moral stamina. Most of these people would feel as Mr. Churchill felt when he said:

"When two nations are fighting together one of them may be stricken down and overwhelmed and forced to ask its ally to release it from its obligations. The least that could be expected was that the French government in abandoning the conflict would have been careful not to inflict needless injury upon their faithful comrades in whose final victory the sole chance of French freedom lay and lies. We offered to give full release to the French from their treaty obligations if their fleet was sailed for British harbors before a separate armistice was completed.

"That was not done."

In the foregoing is the full import of the tragic narrative. Well did Mr. Churchill add: "In spite of every kind of promise and assurance given by Admiral Darlan (the French commander), an armistice was signed which was bound to place the French fleet as effectively in the power of Germany as that portion of the French fleet was placed in our power when many of them, unable to reach African ports, came into Portsmouth and Plymouth 10 days ago." So: "I must place on record that what might have been a mortal injury was done to us by the Bordeaux government with full knowledge of the consequences." Thus is the indictment complete.

Magnificent

MRS. JAMES H. R. CROMWELL, WIFE of the former United States Minister to Canada, is reported to have offered to take 500 children from the British Isles and to spend $250,000 a year for their support.

It almost sounds too good to be true; but we can well imagine how the Cromwell household feels toward Britain's cause. Mr. Cromwell overstepped the bounds of diplomatic propriety during his brief sojourn at Ottawa. He got himself into hot water with some politicians at Washington. He broke tradition twice in public; he must have done it many times in private. But he meant every word he said.

Now comes this news of Mrs. Cromwell's magnificent offer. It is not necessary for us to enlarge upon what her beneficence will mean to the tots who are coming to a strange new land to escape the fury of Hitlerism.

July 4

MANY OF OUR FRIENDS IN THE neighboring republic who are celebrating the "Glorious Fourth" today are doing so with anxious hearts. They are following the course of events in Europe with genuine solicitude for the welfare of the cause to which they subscribe, to which they, to the fullest extent of their authority, are contributing so magnificently in the supply of those materials in which Britain stands desperately in need. So although this is the day of days with them—the day which commemorates the establishment in this New World of another progressive democracy—they realize more than at any time in their history that the basic foundation of their way of life is now threatened.

Nor will the vast majority of the people of the United States have anything but commendation for what has transpired in the last few days. Mr. Churchill told the House of Commons that it is the firm intention of the British government, its "inflexible resolve," in fact, to do everything possible to prevent those ships of the French navy not already out of Nazi or Fascist reach from falling into the hands of the enemy. As well as remarking that he left the action of his government for the judgment of Parliament and the nation, the Prime Minister said: "I leave it to the United States; I leave it to the world and history." It can be safely predicted that popular opinion throughout the neighboring republic will view with alarm the consequences in store for the French people under Nazi domination; but nothing more than the smallest of wee voices will be heard in condemnation of the action of the British Navy.

'Splendid Hope'

ALL "LIES AND RUMORS" SUGGESTing that Britain had some intention of embarking on peace negotiations with the axis powers were completely disposed of by Mr. Churchill in the House of Commons this afternoon. And if any doubt remains in the minds of pro-totalitarian wishful thinkers, they ought to be able to find the explanation of the Prime Minister's emphatic statement in British action against that part of the French fleet the Bordeaux government evidently hoped would find refuge in German-dominated French harbors.

This is not the time for anything but a serious view of the situation with which Britain is confronted; but it does not seem extravagant to suggest that Adolf Hitler is not as cocksure at this juncture as he was while he was staging tragic drama in the railway coach at Compiegne last month. He knows now, if he did not know it before, that he is up against a people who are never so dangerous to a foe as they are when they have their backs to the wall. They are ready for him; they are not afraid of his worst. And this is the message Mr. Churchill today has sent to all those in positions of authority:

"On what may be the eve of an attempted invasion or battle for our native land, the Prime Minister desires to impress upon all holding responsible positions their duty to maintain the spirit of alert and confident energy. There are no grounds for supposing that more German troops can be landed in this country, either from the air or across the sea, than can be destroyed or captured by the strong forces at present under arms. They should not hesitate, if necessary, to remove any officer or official found to be constantly exercising a disturbing or distressing influence."

As Mr. Churchill warned when it was obvious to him that all was not well with France, difficult days will have to be endured, much damage will have to be contemplated with a stoicism and resolution of which British people are capable. His speech in the House of Commons today, however, will strengthen that stoicism and that resolution, because, while "we are moving through a period of extreme danger," we also are moving through a period of "splendid hope."

NO DISHONOR IN CONSCRIPTION

From Ottawa Citizen

The enemy behind the lines in Canada will undoubtedly scheme to cause friction within the defence forces by spreading provocative references to conscripted men. There should be the strictest watchfulness against this method of fomenting discord. It should be made clear by the highest Canadian authorities that it is honorable to be drafted for military service. It is the method employed in other democracies including the United Kingdom. As in the last war, it would at once be applied to manpower in the United States probably before the actual declaration of war.

Already slurring remarks have been directed against young men on parade in civilian clothes. They were actually lads who had at last succeeded in enlisting after being turned away from recruiting offices on previous occasions. Without uniforms they were jeered at, doubtless by thoughtless fellows, but it is plain warning that trouble may be fomented by dividing the drafted men for service in Canada from the men enlisted for active service in any part of the world.

This difficulty is, of course, due to lack of foresight by responsible authorities in Canada since the beginning of the war, on the subject of military service. Conscription has been so misrepresented to the Canadian public, it has been made to appear to be almost degrading when it is really the way of democracy as well as of military efficiency.

TOTALITARIAN

A CAREFUL ANALYSIS of the budget debate at Ottawa representing the considered opinions of all parties shows clearly that the drive on all sides is not for less government intervention but for more. Not a voice has been raised to question the trend. All the old voices that used to warn us before the war that we were building a Socialist state of some sort are silent now.

Thus from the Conservative Party's financial critic, Joseph Harris, came the demand that we put our entire foreign trade directly under the control of the government board with power to stop the importation of any article if it competes with a Canadian article.

BUREAUCRACY SUPREME

WHEN G. G. McGEER advanced this proposal a few years ago, as part of his completely planned economy, he was told that he was trying to establish a Fascist state. Even last year at this time Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, was telling the banking committee that once you started on this process there was no end but government control of everything. Today you have the Conservative Party, which considers itself the voice of orthodox business, demanding the end of orthodox business in foreign trade.

And immediately, of course, the Socialist, Mr. Coldwell, one of the ablest minds in Canada, springs up to endorse Mr. Harris' proposal. Conservatism and Socialism find themselves on common ground, both driving in the same direction towards the government-controlled economy.

From the Liberal side, Tom Reid declares that "we have built up a bureaucracy which has become almost if not entirely our master," but he goes on to demand policies that will certainly mean more bureaucracy. Quoting from a recent radio talk by this reporter, Mr. Reid urged Canada to get in on President Roosevelt's self-contained economy of the western hemisphere because we have probably lost most of our European markets forever.

NEW PATTERN

WE MIGHT AS WELL forget all old arguments in respect to tariffs, said Mr. Reid, and "I am doubtful that we can do all that will be necessary to be done and at the same time allow business to go on its usual way." There you have the mind of the Canadian politician struggling to grasp the new pattern of our life. Immediately comes complete agreement from the Socialist Mr. Coldwell, who congratulates Mr. Reid and adds that our old notions of trade and tariffs are "as extinct as the dodo."

From the three sides of the House, no such complete agreement has ever been seen before. All are caught up in the tide of events which they are powerless to stem and in the retreat from old notions, old party policies, old cries and old conceptions of the state, government today is simply doing what is necessary from day to day and putting the best possible face on it. What else can it do?

ROPES TO BIND GHOSTS

From Nature

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has had before it the appeal of a Swazi subordinate chief, Fakisandhla Nkambule, against a judgment of the Swaziland court, by which he was convicted of having through a witch doctor procured the death of one of his wives, his brother and his brother's wife. It would appear that during the ceremony of placing the ghost rope over a grave to prevent the egress of the ghost, some 20 persons who were present partook of "medicine" into which it is alleged commercial arsenic had been introduced. In the result, it was claimed, three of them had died.

Some hesitation was expressed by the appellant's counsel, Horace Douglas, in accepting the statement that in Swaziland a rope was believed to be an efficient barrier to a ghost's emergence from the grave; but he was reassured on finding the Greeks and Romans had used rope to keep evil spirits from their houses. Had the learned counsel referred to the works of Sir James Frazer he would have found ample confirmation in many varied forms.

In Swaziland itself the efficacy of the grass rope as a protection against the spirit of the departed is vouched for by the fact that for a certain period the widowed man or woman always wears a grass rope, the "grave rope," around waist or neck, and this must on no account be removed until the ceremonial period has elapsed.

NATURE—GOD'S WORKS

He sends the sunshine, rain or showers,
It is His world, we call it ours,
We joke and laugh, Life's but a game,
Rough is the road, sometimes we're lame.

Then sing a song of our dear old friends
United to be where the Old Trail ends,
Hard is the trail, it would be harder too,
If we had no friends, as we onward go.

Our Dear Friends, both young and old,
Their laughs, their tales, worth wealth untold,
If you cannot sing, make prose or rhyme,
Praise Nature's works, God's sun that shine.

So many friends and things to thank,
I could destroy the gold in every bank,
But away out, beside some rippling stream
Could you or I have truthful dream.

And see folks walk where the nuggets shine,
They belong to God, not yours or mine,
For the power of gold makes power of wrath,
Then Hitler's hordes they sally forth.

So on in history, or life of years
Amid laughter, song, heartaches, or tears,
Then at best or worst friendship's great token
God's words sound good wherever spoken.

—OLIVE PIPE.

EUROPEAN FINAL

MOHANDAS GANDHI has followed the example of Senator Key Pitman and advised the British people to hand over their island to Adolf Hitler rather than see it made a battlefield and destroyed. It is laughable to see how completely outsiders misjudge the character of the English and Scottish peoples. Unless I am completely astray, the ordinary man in the tight little island has more than a touch of pride in his heart at the fact that he is going to have a chance to do his bit to bring down another tyrant, and that the event is going to find him fighting at home, for his own home and the freedom of man.

The best story I have yet heard is of the chirpy little cockney Tommy who came home last week to find the missus downhearted and with characteristic good humor remarked: "Cheer up Ma. We're in the final, and this time were playing on our home grounds."

I would bet everything that in the coming test there are at least two elements in Britain's defence which will stand like a steel wall. These are the navy and the ordinary people. All the world knows about the British navy, for it has written its own advertisements, even long before one Wm. Shakespeare took pen in hand. But nobody that I know has ever done justice to the people of England who supply the men in the ranks and the men on the ships.

We have produced all too few generals who could even compare with the best of other countries. But if there are any better non-commissioned officers in all the world than those in British khaki I never heard of them. The world has heard a lot about the Corsican corporal of the early 1800 period, and of the Austrian corporal who now fancies himself as world Fuehrer to be. It was the unknown British soldier who overthrew the first. He will be there too when Hitler meets his end.

HITLER'S REAL HOPE

EVERYBODY now knows that Hitler's successes to date have been due as much to fools and traitors in his victim countries as to armed force. His only real chance of conquering England is by utilizing such persons. It seems to me that the whole Empire should be on guard against a German peace offensive which will certainly follow failure of Hitler to land a conquering army in Britain. As he fooled German business men to get into power, and British business men from 1933 till August, 1939, I think he will try again.

If Hitler is unable to conquer Britain by frontal attack there could be no more colossal blunder than to fall for the compromise peace proposal which Walter Duranty says Hitler has already made secretly, perhaps through Sir Samuel Hoare, or someone similar.

Britain's one real weapon against the setting up of the first stage of World Germanica is to blockade the whole continent, while building up or buying an airfleet which will shoot the Nazis clean out of the skies.

If we are ever insane enough to listen to any proposal which enables Germany to end that blockade we will be forced to fight the Nazis not on the battlefield but in an infinitely more difficult arena.

I notice that the Italian press and the Spanish radio are making a concerted and increasing exploitation of the position of the Duke of Windsor, no doubt unauthorized. They are reporting "mutinies" in the British army on his behalf. All of which suggests than when the Nazis try to go into Britain they will attempt to use the Duke as a sort of stalking horse behind which to exploit the interests of Mosley and Hitler.

Forewarned should be forearmed. No trick is too dirty for the Nazi game. The stake is world mastery.

BILLIARD TABLE FOR THE AIRMEN

To the Editor:—The Red Triangle Committee of the Y.M.C.A. is furnishing the recreation hut for the members of the air force at Patricia Bay, and we have received a request from the air force to provide them with games and also with a billiard table which will be used by the members of the air force when off duty.

As the cost of the billiard table would be prohibitive for the Red Triangle Committee, we are asking if any citizen of Victoria might have a billiard table which could be loaned to our committee for the duration of war so that it might be available to our men in uniform.

If anyone has a billiard table or games of any sort which they could furnish to our committee, we would like them to write to our committee in care of the Y.M.C.A.

W. T. STRAITH
Chairman of the Red Triangle Committee.

THE GODS' BEST-GIFT

T. L. H. in Richmond Times-Dispatch

The best gift which the gods can give a man for the preservation of his sanity and peace of mind, is a sense of humor. It is the most precious sense which a man can possess. It will save him from taking life too seriously, and what is more important still from taking himself too seriously. The man who is too serious is never a safe counsellor. Lincoln's sense of humor saved him in many a situation.

The man who gets angry with you for not thinking as he does on the matter of religion has the wrong religion. It is better to have none than to have the sort which makes you disagreeable and contentious.

When a man has lost his sense of humor, he has lost the best of faith, faith in himself and the essential solvency of nature.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He casted his line and caught a fish."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "dog?"

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Proceed, conceed, exceed.

4. What does the word "cynosure" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with ac that means "harsh or biting sharpness, as of temper or language?"

ANSWERS

1. Say, "He cast his line." 2. Pronounce the o as in cost, not as in of. 3. Concede. 4. An object of general interest or attention. "She was the cynosure of all eyes." 5. Acrimony.

ADDING ROMANCE

Competition for Model Planes

Victoria will shortly stage an air show.

Not a big show depicting the latest in streamlined commercial and wartime airplane models, stunt flying, etc., but a competition for Greater Victoria youngsters who have model gas-engined winged jobs.

This event will be staged on the former Lansdowne Road flying field on Sunday, July 14, and is open to any youngster who owns a pint-sized replica of the big man-made "birds."

There are many Victoria and district youngsters who have built or bought themselves gas-powered jobs and more than a score are expected to have their machines on hand for the three-event competition.

There will be two competitions for special types of models and a big open event.

C class is open to machines with five-pound cubic inch displacement. Entries must be eight-ounce wing loading. Minimum wing surface for this class is 450 square inches. There will be a first, second and third prize.

B class contest is open to machines with a wing surface of up to 450 square inches. There will be a first and second prize in this event.

The open event is open to all planes. They will start at the same time. There are no rules or restrictions to size of planes or motors entered in this event.

B and C class competitions will be 20-second motor runs, with a penalty of 10 seconds for every second over the 20 seconds up to 23 seconds.

All will be R.O.G.—rise off the ground—flights. Each entry will have four official flights, with the average time for the best three flights being used. Two delayed starts will equal one official start.

Publishes Book On Traffic Law

A publication which promises to be of value to members of the legal fraternity and to insurance men has recently been completed by Frank C. Hall, Vancouver lawyer and son of Magistrate and Mrs. Henry C. Hall, Victoria.

The book, entitled "A Digest of Automobile Accidents," is a 150-page volume containing brief reference to every traffic case arising out of accidents recorded in Canadian criminal history up to the date of publication.

Mr. Hall, now a second lieutenant with the Seaforth Highlanders, spent two years in the compilation of the book, regarded by legal men as one of the most complete of its kind ever written.

It is cross-indexed in a manner which makes reference easy for all manner of difficulties or technicalities which might arise in a court case arising from an accident.

It covers such subjects as the duty of motorists in circumstances calling for special care, such as children on a street, fog, glaring headlights, generally poor visibility, entering and leaving driveways on a highway, narrow and poor roads, backing and slippery pavements; the effective cause of accidents, the burden of proving negligence, contributory negligence, special defences in accident cases, decisions on specific types of negligent conduct, pedestrians, types of collisions and a multitude of other subjects.

It is prefaced with an introduction by J. Pitcairn Hogg, legislative counsel for British Columbia.

C.A.S.F. Casualties

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Defence Department in its seventh casualty list of the Canadian Active Service Force overseas reports three dead, one missing, one dangerously ill and six previously reported missing now with their unit or in hospital.

The new list brought the total to 25 dead since the First Division arrived in England in December, and reduced the missing to 10. All were from eastern Canada.

Things we did not have in 1929: streamlined trains, synthetic rubber, sulfanilamide, nylon, television, trans-oceanic passenger air service, fluorescent lighting, glass building blocks.

Oath Modified For U.S. Volunteers

OTTAWA (CP)—Possible loss of citizenship through taking the oath of allegiance to the King is not expected to prove a serious obstacle to enlistment of United States citizens in the armed forces of Canada, it was learned here.

Some modifications in enlistment procedure are understood to have been made with a view to meeting the personal problem which confronts an American volunteer when he is asked to take the oath.

Several thousand Americans are believed to be serving now in the Canadian forces both in Canada and overseas. However, as each one technically enlists as a British subject an accurate picture of the number of American citizens wearing the Canadian uniform is impossible to obtain.

Officials of the national defence department declined to say what changes were being made, but intimated the problem of the oath of allegiance had been solved, so far as enlistment was concerned.

'Bishop's Close' Fete Nets Over $200

In the lovely old grounds of Bishop's Close yesterday afternoon the Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral held its annual garden party in aid of the work of the church, approximately $200 being realized.

Mrs. G. H. Bissell, president of the guild, welcomed the many guests, and Bishop Sexton declared the affair open, paying tribute to the untiring efforts of the guild in the interests of the parish.

Pupils of Miss Dorothy Cox presented a delightful program of dances in costume on the lawn, including valse by Bernice Atkins, Gwen Emmerson, Joan Bird and Marguerite Spencer; tarantella, Irene Atkins and Beverley Cox; Indian princess, Eva Lovick, and pas de quatre, Bernic Atkins, Gwen Emmerson, Joy Groves and Marguerite Spencer. Music was also played during the afternoon, through means of an orthophonic lent for the occasion by Kent's Limited.

Various stalls were arranged under the trees around the lawn. Fancywork was in charge of Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. Gane and Mrs. Speck; home cooking, in charge of Mrs. C. T. Wriglesworth and Mrs. Spencer Elliott; ice cream, convened by Miss George and Mrs. Watson, and flowers, under Miss Maud Lettice and Mrs. Richmond, were well patronized. Miss Margaret Elliott supervised the photographic stall, at which charming studies of the cathedral, taken by Mrs. L. A. Gane, found ready sale.

Mrs. J. W. Robinson, assisted by Mrs. E. Rogers and Mrs. Grant, had charge of the arrangements for tea, which was served in the gymnasium at flower-centred tables.

Presiding over the head table were Mrs. H. E. Sexton and Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, and the special guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Charles Hensley, Mr. and Mrs. Jutson Fisher, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Rev. T. R. and Mrs. Lancaster and Rev. J. R. Fyfe. Mrs. G. R. Richardson took care of the tea receipts and Mrs. Parmiter the gate receipts. Miss Agnes Renny had charge of the head table.

A novel superfluities stall, in the form of a decorated barrow, was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elmore, who were both in costume.

Homemaking Course Planned by W.I.

Members of the Lake Hill Women's Institute met yesterday for a wool-bee and after held a business meeting. Mrs. W. S. Webster was in the chair. A short course in home-making, under the supervision of the U.B.C., will be held in the near future. Subjects taught will include nutrition, inexpensive meal planning, weaving, rug making and glove making, etc. This course is open to the public and applications will be accepted by the convener, Mrs. Massey, 991 Lodge Avenue, telephone G4290, not later than Saturday.

Members are asked to assist with novelty donations to the Queen Alexandra Solarium at the fair. Prizes were awarded to the following pupils of Cloverdale School for their essay on "Saanich, Our Municipality": George Bowers, Sonia Leiper and Doris Flack. Letters of thanks were sent to Mr. and Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Findley and Mrs. Myles for their work in judging the essays.

St. Saviour's Garden Party Drew Many

Many guests attended the garden party held by the Women's Guild and Ladies' Aid of St. Saviour's at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George S. McTavish, 733 Lampson Street, yesterday afternoon. Introduced by Rev. F. V. Venables, Archdeacon Robert Connell opened the affair, and the guests were received by Mrs. McTavish, and Mrs. T. H. Evans, the general convener of the affair.

Tea was served on the lawn, with Mrs. Cody-Johnson and Mrs. Evans in charge of the arrangements. Mrs. Burney read teacups.

The stalls were arranged round the garden, which had been decorated with flags, and the various stalls were in charge as follows: Plain sewing, Mrs. J. N. Harper; home cooking, Mrs. F. Willis, Mrs. A. W. Henry and Mrs. W. G. Edwards; parcel post, Mrs. W. Froggatt; housie-housie and bran tub, Mrs. Fred Hooper and Mrs. A. E. Westover; vegetable stall, Mr. Fred Tate; candy and ice cream, Mrs. W. H. Hughes.

A special meeting of the Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held yesterday morning at headquarters, with the regent, Mrs. Peter Cunningham, presiding. Contributions for the I.O.D.E. bomber fund were received from members and interested friends. A donation of $50 was made to the Children's Aid Society to be used for the evacuees from Britain. A knitting meeting of the chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Brown, 2849 Burdick Street, Uplands, on Monday.

Fete at 'Clovelly' Raises $343 for Chapter

Mrs. E. W. Hamber, who was accompanied by Mrs. Mae Rice, was among the many guests welcomed at the garden party held yesterday afternoon at "Clovelly," Sea Terrace, the home of Lady Barnard, honorary regent of the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., under whose auspices the affair was held. Perfect weather and a perfect setting combined to make the affair an outstanding success, the sum of approximately $343 being realized for the chapter's work.

Mrs. C. V. Stockwell declared the fete open at 3, and was presented with a bouquet by little Heather Scott. Mrs. J. T. Jones, the regent, and Mrs. Mackenzie Grieve, the vice-regent, received the guests.

TEA IN PAVILION

At tables daintily arranged with Iceland poppies, tea was served in the pavilion, with Mesdames W. E. A. Barclay, C. Bishop, J. Bryant, J. Kent-Fawkes, W. E. Akenhead, R. Eaton, A. L. Oakley and R. H. McInnes as hostesses. Seated at the head table were the special guests, including Mrs. Hamber, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Stockwell, Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Mrs. K. C. Symons and Mrs. R. B McMicking.

Arranged by Mrs. A. W. Y. Des Brisay, a delightful entertainment was given by the Russian Ballet School of Dancing, and included figures from a clock shop with Annette DesBrisay as the ballerina; Audrey Draper, Hungarian; Shirley Gunn, French doll, and Toleta Williams, Dresden doll; "La Jota," a Spanish number, included Elaine Harte as soloist and dancer, and Patsy Smith, Agnes Richards, Patricia Coulter, Marie Wilson, Audrey Brown and Margaret Jean Angus, dancers; sailors' hornpipe, Murray McIntosh, Doreen Bull and Robin Kinneil; butterfly, Patsy Sparkes; Bach variations, Annette DesBrisay, Agnes Richards and Toleta Williams. Miss Virginia Ryan was the accompanist.

Home cooking was sold by Mesdames H. Allen, A. Lockley, Warren Smith and Misses E. Reimer and D. Mason; candy, Esquimalt Brownies, under Mrs. Sherwood; ice cream, Mrs. Mackenzie Grieve; lady with a 1,000 pockets, Mrs. W. H. Herron; housie-housie, Mrs. J. Quinn.

Mesdames A. E. Harris, C. Cross and A. Warder were in receipt of custom, and the contests were in charge of Mesdames A. Booth, H. Cresine, G. Sedger, S. Goulden and Miss M. Prior.

Bridge and mah jong were played in the house, the winners being Mrs. McArthur and Mrs. J. C. Stewart. Mrs. S. Angwin and Mrs. E. M. Jones read the teacups.

Chapter Sends $200 Towards Bomber

The sum of $200 has been raised by the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., as its contribution towards the bomber to be purchased by National Chapter, it was announced at the monthly meeting of the chapter held last night. At a special meeting held June 14, a cheque for $100 was ordered sent to National Chapter for the bomber, and at the meeting last evening contributions amounting to $100 were received, making total donations of $200 for the bomber.

It was announced that the sum of $63 had been realized as a result of opening Hatley Park to the public on Sunday under the auspices of the chapter.

Arrangements were made for a garden party to be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hepburn, 1069 Beach Drive, on July 24, and Mrs. Frank Baylis was named general convener. Mrs. J. Ripley will manage the home cooking stall; Miss N. Richards, the candy; Mrs. F. Kitching and Miss N. Jones, contests; Mrs. A. G. Moodie, housie-housie; Mrs. W. Finmore, mile of pennies, and Mesdames R. S. Standerwick, J. E. Jones and H. J. Shepherd will be in charge of the gate receipts. Mrs. R. W. Marsh will demonstrate knitting for war work for those interested.

The war convener reported completion of 12 scarfs, 19 pairs of socks, two sweaters, four wristlets, 10 pairs of Indian socks and one new blanket, amounting to the value of $51.75. A parcel of clothing has been sent to the Red Cross.

Ice cream will be served to patients in the sunroom of the Jubilee Hospital during the summer. Announcement of the motor mechanic classes, under Mrs. Ernest Eve, was made. Miss Littsmith, Santa Monica, Cal., an old member of the chapter, who is visiting in Victoria, was welcomed at the meeting.

A number of friends gathered on Tuesday evening at Wilkinson Road United Church parsonage on the occasion of a shower in honor of Miss Helen Ritz, whose marriage to Mr. Ephraim Burkholder of Duncan will shortly take place. In the name of the official board and church choir, Mr. A. E. Campion presented to the guest of honor a handsome trilite standard lamp, and special reference was made to the high esteem in which Miss Ritz was held by the congregation. Games and contests were enjoyed, after which refreshments were served.

In honor of two brides-elect, Miss Mabel Browett and Miss Pearl Downsworth, Miss Mary Stewart was hostess yesterday evening, entertaining with a double shower at her home, 1551 Clawthrope Avenue, Miss Browett receiving gifts of linen and Miss Downsworth, utensils for the kitchen. Each collection of gifts was concealed in a decorated box, one in green and the other in mauve, and surmounted with a miniature bride. Each guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and a buffet supper was served from a table centred with pink rosebuds, flanked with silver candlesticks holding in place lighted green tapers. Those present included the Misses Mabel Browett, Pearl Downsworth, Agnes Murphy, Grace Beschell, Eileen Worth, Margaret Clark, Ella Bishop, Doreen Mills, Peggy Davis, Lilian Simmons, Bernice Chapman, Agnes McKechnie, Phyllis Neville, Ethel Price, Dorothy Perry, Agnes Guy, Gladys Argyle, Tora Parker, Alicia Farrant, Jean Hall, Agnes Prior, and Margaret Carr and Mrs. J. Miss Lilian McCall, who is to be married this week to Mr. Bruce McMicking, was honored at a miscellaneous shower held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. W. Kenyon, Lee Avenue. The rooms were effectively decorated with flowers, and the supper table was centred with a miniature wedding party, the bride wearing the traditional white, and the two tiny brides-maids in tourquoise blue and orchid respectively. Pale pink gladiolia and white candles completed the decorative scheme. Mrs. S. H. McCall and Mrs. W. Youlden poured tea, after which the tea cups were read. Those invited were: Mrs. S. H. McCall, Mrs. W. Youlden, Mrs. L. McMicking, Mrs. W. Amyes, Mrs. W. H. Hobis and the Misses Ernie Moyser, Pat Locke, Peggy Muckle, Ethel Brown, Dolly Hobbis, Eva McCall and Gladys McCall.

Many Women Join Motor Mechanic Classes

Over 30 women, all equipped with a driver's license, plus a bent for tinkering with gadgets and an eager desire to turn their flare into practical use in the event of war emergency, gathered at the Davis-Drake Motor Co. showroom last evening to enrol in the class arranged for women motor mechanics.

Sponsored by the I.O.D.E., these classes have been organized all across Canada by the General Motors Product of Canada Ltd., and Mr. Gordon Stevens of Vancouver, organizer for the General Motors, was on hand to arrange the preliminary details and explain the comprehensive course given free by instructors arranged by the company.

The women were issued with smart, workmanlike denim overalls, the gift of General Motors, and bearing the letters "G.M." above a maple leaf, while an identification badge, such as is worn by members of the men's service clubs, records the name of the wearer.

After the preliminary registration details were completed, Lt.-Col. Hugh Allan, of the Army Service Corps, briefly addressed the women, complimenting them on their initiative and speaking of the value of a knowledge of motor mechanics in times of emergency.

Two classes will be held weekly, one each Tuesday evening at Davis-Drake, and the other every Thursday evening at Wilson and Cabeldu, Yates Street, the first of which opens tonight.

Mrs. Ernest Eve is convening the classes for the I.O.D.E., under its war work scheme, and any information will be gladly given by her at E2117.

Engagements

SHEPHEARD—GUNNISS

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Gunniss, Nanaimo, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Mae Clelland, to Harold Berkley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shepheard of Victoria. The wedding will take place on July 10.

HEAL—BACHAND

The engagement is announced of Yvette Jeanne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Bachand of Medicine Hat, Alta., to Mr. Leslie Earl Heal, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Heal of Saanichton. The wedding will take place quietly in Saanichton on July 19.

CAUFIELD—ROGERS

The engagement is announced of Muriel Gwendolyn, only daughter of Mr. H. G. Rogers of Alberni, and the late Mrs. Rogers, to Mr. William Kenneth Caufield, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Caufield, Fernwood Road, Victoria. The wedding will take place in Victoria on August 12.

The monthly meeting of the J.B.A.A. Auxiliary was held on Tuesday night at the clubhouse. Old and new business was discussed. An energetic committee is making plans for a Regatta Dance to be held at Shawnigan Lake on Saturday, August 3. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the club, as well as any further particulars of same.

Mrs. James Rankin and her small son, Michael, have gone over to Vancouver to spend a few days with Mrs. C. S. Ranking before going to Paisley Island for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. F. L. Coulson of Toronto, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. James Peters, Esquimalt, and her sister, Mrs. H. R. Bray, in Vancouver, left the mainland city today for her home.

Miss Eileen Flanagan, superintendent of the neurological unit of McGill University, president of the Nurses' Association of Quebec, and vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who is in the city on a brief visit, was the guest of honor at a no-hostess luncheon party held at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, today.

Miss Phillis Dodsworth, a bride-to-be, was the guest of honor when Mrs. Arthur Roberts, Victoria Avenue, entertained at a linen shower last evening. A color scheme of pink and white was used in the floral decoration of the rooms. Miss Dodsworth received many gifts of linen from her friends. Amusing games were played and a buffet supper was served. Mrs. F. Dodsworth presided at the prettily arranged table for which clarkia in shades of pink in a crystal bowl lighted by pink tapers in crystal holders, formed an attractive centrepiece. The guests were: Mrs. F. Dodsworth, Mrs. Robert Duncan, Mrs. John McTavish, and Misses Marjorie Dodsworth, Betty Cottet, Marjorie Delf, Laura MacBride, Bernadette Corcoran, Zelma Wille, Gwen Dodsworth, Mabel Nicol; Marianne Wingate and Davina Dingwall.

Garden Party Aids Cause of 'Free Frenchmen'

Stimulus to the cause of "all free Frenchmen," led by General Charles de Gaulle, was forthcoming at the very successful garden party held yesterday afternoon at "Willow Cove," Ten-Mile Point, the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Grey Aldous.

Arranged by l'Alliance Francaise, the affair was formally opened by Mrs. H. M. Archibald, the president, in which she, as a native of France, expressed the thanks of the French people here for the generous help given by their British friends.

Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. Charles Watson and Mrs. T. B. Inglis convened the tea arrangements, assisting them being Mrs. C. Laundy, Mrs. G. Bjornsfelt, Mrs. W. R. Foster, Mme. Kluckauf, Mrs. O. Parkinson and the Misses A. and C. Butler, Victoria Ebbs-Canavan and Hegler. Teacup reading was popular, being in charge of Mrs. Cowan and Miss K. Roberts.

Mrs. Baker had charge of the gate. Immediately inside the grounds was a dart-throwing contest in charge of Mrs. Hamilton, and stalls in the immediate neighborhood included the following, all of which were well patronized: Home cooking, Mrs. H. Butler and Mrs. Inglis; Paris novelties (including jewelry, Italian plaques, embroidery, etc.), Miss King and Mrs. Inglis; cut flowers, presented by Mrs. Aldous and Mrs. Foster, Misses Angela and Charlotte Butler; Junior Alliance table of hand-made articles, Mlle. Francette d'Estrube and Mrs. Burnley Hall. Miss Kilvert of Winnipeg conducted a game entitled "Penny-tries."

Golden Wedding of Nanaimo Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Whitehead, well-known Nanaimo pioneers, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday. They held "open house" at the home of their only daughter, Mrs. G. Brown, Cavan Street, in the afternoon, when presentation of a purse of gold was made to them. In the evening they were "at home" to many friends at their own home on Crace Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead were married in Leadville, Colorado, on July 3, 1890. Mr. Whitehead worked in Nanaimo mines until the big strike in 1913. Then he branched into the hotel business and has operated the Six-Mile Hotel at Parson's Bridge, Victoria; the Horeshoe Bay Inn, at Maple Bay, and more recently the Lotus Hotel, Bastion Street, Nanaimo, which he sold last year.

They have two children, Mr. Jackson Whitehead and Mrs. G. B. Brown, and grandchildren, Mr. Alvin Brown, and Beverley and Jackson Whitehead, all of Nanaimo.

The monthly meeting of the Victoria West W.A. to Salvation Army Scouts Cubs and Brownies will be held at the Salvation Army Hall on Catherine Street this evening at 8.

2 HOURS FROM VANCOUVER

DRINK THE SPA WATERS
.... Enjoy Sports

EVEN normally healthy and robust people may benefit greatly by drinking regularly the highly mineralized waters of The Spa of Canada. The qualities in these potash and sulphur hot springs are comparable with such renowned European spas as Baden-Baden, Bad Nauheim and Bath. But "taking the waters"—even taking a course of baths and massages—need not interfere with the full enjoyment of sports and outdoor activities. Many guests combine the two and say they have never spent a more pleasant and beneficial vacation.

Members of Island Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, met to sew Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Munroe. Much work was done for refugees, as six quilts are in the making, also many garments and knitted things. A dainty tea was served. Several donations were received. The next meeting to sew for the refugees will be held Monday evening, July 8, at the home of Mrs. M. Haines, 2714 Blackwood. The temple voted another $5 to be used for materials for this work at its last meeting.

DOCTOR KNOWS BEST

says Mary Blake

DOCTORS do know best about so many things that concern our health. And they know a very great deal about feeding babies. It is because they have studied pediatrics (child-feeding) that so many of them (particularly baby specialists) prescribe Carnation Milk.

Because it is sterilised, and because not only every can, but every drop is uniform, Carnation is a very reliable milk for baby's bottle. Babies need lots of the vitamin D which is present in extra amount in Irradiated Carnation Milk. But what makes doctors so enthusiastic about Carnation Milk is that the very processing which makes it safe and uniform also makes it much easier to digest.

It's amazing, the number of babies who are being raised on Irradiated Carnation Milk. And thousands of mothers who first bought Carnation for the baby, have learned what a wonderful help it is in the kitchen and on the table—smooth, double-rich, convenient, economical—it replaces cream for coffee, cereals, whipping, ice cream. It adds greatly in flavour and smoothness to all cooked dishes which call for milk.

Learn more about Irradiated Carnation Milk. Order several cans from your grocer. And get these Carnation books. "Your Contented Baby" is free. The big, colorful de luxe Carnation Cook Book is 15c (postpaid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbott Street, Vancouver.

Lieut.-Commander S. T. T. Parsons, R.N.V.R. and his bride leaving St. Mark's Church, Halifax, N.S., after their wedding on June 24. The bride, who was the former Miss Aileen (Betty) Murray Slater, only daughter of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. A. F. M. Slater of Duncan, was a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital. She was given in marriage by Lieut. Martin Ellis, R.C.N.V.R. of Victoria and attended by Mrs. Peter Huggins, the former Miss Patricia Cole of Victoria. Capt. G. F. Burnett, R.M. was groomsman.

Lives in House Made of Bottles

TAMPA, Fla.—Mrs. Cora Clark and her daughter, Ruth, live in a glass house and like it. You don't catch either of them worrying a whit these days about people who throw stones.

They're comfortably bottled up in an attractive little home built of 10,000 quart, pint and half-pint milk bottles, in the Lake Magdalene section of Tampa.

The idea for the novel milky way residence was that of Mrs. Clark's son, Thad, an installation engineer for a supply company. When the company scuttled vast quantities of old milk bottles for new, lightweight ones, Thad Clark made a deal for the old models. With them, and some concrete, he built the cottage for his mother.

A concrete foundation was laid and forms constructed to hold the bottles in place within eight-inch walls. The containers were arranged horizontally in the concrete which supplies the exterior and interior finished surfaces. The house is said to be proof against vermin and fire.

1000-BOTTLE FIREPLACE

On the corners of the house the bottles were placed with ends protruding. The same design was employed in the chimney—and it's really quite an artistic design.

The roof also is of concrete, supported by beams of concrete and steel.

Inside the house there are two bedrooms, a bath, living-room, kitchen and dinette. When the sun is shining, the slits of glass which show through the concrete sparkle and gleam like thousands of little mirrors and make each room a cheery place in which to live.

The outstanding feature of the interior, however, is the fireplace, made of 1,000 pint-sized bottles. It is modern without having a cold look about it, unique but not bizarre.

Mrs. Cora Clark sits by a fireplace made from 1,000 milk bottles. Mrs. Clark's son used 10,000 discarded milk and cream bottles to build a unique little glass house in Tampa, Fla., for his mother.

Nanaimo Gives War Pledges

NANAIMO—A representative and largely-attended public meeting here Tuesday night, called by Mayor Harrison to consider a resolution passed by the city council urging citizens to subscribe one day's pay, or its equivalent, for war purposes, disbanded without taking any action, due to the Dominion government war budget.

On motion of Dr. G. A. B. Hall, seconded by Miss I. Summers, representing the Pythian Sisters, the meeting unanimously endorsed a resolution pledging their individual support financially and in every possible way to help win the war, believing that the method outlined in the original resolution might conflict with the budget.

Loyalty to the Empire was the keynote of the discussion of each organization representative who spoke. Edward Boyd, representative of the United Mine Workers of America, the largest group represented, stated that the Miners' Union was 100 per cent loyal, and believe war weapons essential. They, however, suggested the organization of a central body to collect funds directly responsible to the government, which would in turn reduce the cost of administration and also reduce the burden placed on the workers.

The miners also submitted a resolution, which was not voted on, urging the government to control all industries of war, thereby reaping the benefit of excess profits, control of all financial institutions, as provided for in recent government legislation, and that every individual should be required to share responsibility towards winning the war.

Results are sure! make jam or jelly with CERTO—it's quicker...easier

So say the Prizewinning Experts . . . 3 out of 4 of whom use CERTO

Mrs. G. G. Proulx of Aylmer, Que.—Prizewinner at Aylmer Fair, writes: "I believe it was due to Certo that I won my first prize at the Fair. I find that Certo saves time and spares one of a lot of trouble and worry."

Why using Certo is the Quickest, Easiest Way to make Better Jams and Jellies

Saves Time—Energy—It's so quick and easy to make jam and jelly with Certo. That's because you need give only a one-minute to two-minute full rolling boil for jam—only a half-minute to a minute for jelly. "Making jams and jellies with Certo takes less time" agrees Mrs. R. Allard, Prizewinner at Portage Exhibition (Man.). "They do not need to boil so long."

More Jam or Jelly—Since so little juice can boil away in this very short boil, you get about half again more jam or jelly from an equal amount of fruit. Mrs. Beverley Kenward, Prizewinner at Kamloops Exhibition (B.C.), says: "I get more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit."

Fresher Taste—Brighter Colour—In this shorter boil the fresh, natural taste and colour are retained—not spoiled or changed as in the old-fashioned long boil. "I find my fruit does not boil away and the flavour remains," writes Miss L. Miller, Prizewinner at Vermilion Fair (Alta.).

Sure Results—If only you follow exactly the tested recipes provided free with Certo, you never need fear results. Mrs. N. H. Lang, Prizewinner at Merrickville Fair (Ont.), writes: "... the chances of failure when directions are carefully followed is absolutely nil."

CERTO is concentrated FRUIT PECTIN ... the natural jellying substance extracted from fruit in which it is most abundant.

At the eighth annual picnic of the Manitoba Association yesterday at Beacon Hill Park, James Strang was re-elected president for the ensuing year. W. A. Hendry was named secretary-treasurer.

The executive was chosen as follows: J. Coates Browne, R. Lawrie, Mrs. E. R. Snyder, Mrs. H. C. Beale and Rev. J. W. Churchill.

A program of races and games was presented for the young folk and refreshments were served.

Mr. Strang spoke to the gathering on the many progressive measures along educational and social lines, which had been put into effect in the prairie provinces.

Tribute was paid A. H. Sutherland, retiring secretary-treasurer, who was the first president of the society.

BLAIRMORE, Alta. (CP) — Harry Bennett of Blairmore has received a cable from the British Air Ministry advising him his son, Pilot Officer Richard Bennett of the Royal Air Force is missing. Bennett was listed as missing earlier this year, but turned up three weeks later.

Unless breakfast makes you think...

THIS WAKES A HE-MAN APPETITE!

That's why more and more wives start their menfolk off with Kellogg's Corn Flakes, the breakfast that does these three important things. First, Kellogg's, proven tops in flavour*, tempt your appetite. Second, crammed with energizing "carbohydrates," they start you quick. Third, steadily releasing energy, they help keep you going through a long morning's work.

Think too, of the time and work they save! Ready in 30 seconds, no pots or pans to clean. Get several packages tomorrow—or if you eat out, ask for Kellogg's Corn Flakes in the wax-wrapped individual package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

*"Housewives are right," flavour experts say. "What ready-to-eat cereal is your family's favourite?" research workers asked housewives from coast to coast. Five times as many answered Kellogg's Corn Flakes as gave any other brand of corn flakes. And M. Maurice Aquarone, Chef of the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton, agrees! After tasting four leading brands of corn flakes under strict test conditions, M. Aquarone came to the same conclusion as so many other flavour experts. "This taste test definitely proved to me that Kellogg's win on flavour!"

And really economical! For just a few pennies you provide the whole family's breakfast or supper—ask your grocer about delicious Kellogg's Corn Flakes in the new family-size package.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did — even look healthy and strong, yet — you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

Soccer Playoff

North Shore In Easy Win

VANCOUVER, B.C. (CP) — Opening game of the play-off series, to determine the British Columbia representative in the Dominion Cup series for the Canadian soccer championship here last night, saw the favored North Shore United defeat Kerrisdale 8 to 2. It is a best-of-three series.

The United squad have been all-season favorite to represent B.C. for the Canadian championship and are within one game of proving themselves worthy of such honors.

Kerrisdale, who are the district champions here, eliminated Richmond in the first bracket of the semifinals, and North Shore disposed of Cumberland, the Vancouver Island representatives, who had previously blanked Victoria United in the island finals, in the last half of the semis.

Cece Goodheart opened the scoring for North Shore 10 minutes after the kick-off with a hard shot from close in. Laurie Pallot netted the equalizer shortly after when he broke away and beat goalie Jack Rabbit easily.

Jimmy Spencer put the Reds in the lead again when he picked up a pass from Norm McLeod to make the half time score 2 to 1.

THREE FAST GOALS

North Shore came out after the breather and scored three goals in the first 15 minutes. McLeod netted the first with a neat header on a pass from Jimmy Love. Basil Robinson booted in the second on a rebound from Mike McManus' shot and Spencer made it 5 to 1 on a long drive from outside the penalty area.

Trevor Harvey added to this margin with a long hard shot from well out on which goalie Greenwood had no chance of saving.

In the last five minutes North Shore netted two more counters when Jimmy Love drove in a hard shot from close in and Trevor Harvey took another long shot which found the net.

North Shore had a decided edge throughout the game, but missed several good chances to score. Kerrisdale, on the other hand, played a very ragged game and were let down somewhat by weak net minding.

QUEBEC FINAL

MONTREAL (CP) — Carsteel emerged from the provincial soccer finals today as Quebec's representatives in the play-offs for the Dominion championships. They defeated Maisonneuve Rovers 3 to 1 last night in the second game of the home and home series for the provincial crown.

It was Carsteel's third successive provincial championship. They took the series by the round score of 4 to 2. The first match Saturday was a 1 to 1 draw.

ELEANOR TENNANT might just as well be known as Eleanor Tennis. Few people have done as much for the game.

Even now, while touring with Alice Marble, her greatest pupil, she continues to do the work that gives her the most enjoyment—giving free clinics for kids.

If anyone can bring talent out of a boy or girl, slender, dynamic Miss Tennant is the one.

She picks the champion-to-be out of a crowd of green hands.

She did it with Miss Marble, the women's champion.

It was her timely advice to Welby Van Horn last season which sent the Los Angeles lad on his way to fame.

"Welby Van Horn can't miss being the national champion," says Miss Tennis—er Tennant, the teacher, strategist and psychologist.

Giving clinics in southern California, Miss Tennant noticed that a black-haired little shaver showed up wherever she went . . . constantly crowded into line for instruction. She liked his enthusiasm, saw his aptitude, realized the boy was a champion in the making. She took him in hand.

Miss Marble was 17 when "Teach," as the queen of the courts calls her sponsor, first saw the world's most spectacular player. Miss Tennant recalls how young Miss Marble was using a frightful racquet and was 100 per cent wrong in her shots.

Miss Marble comes from a family of very modest means. She was making her home with Miss Tennant before she crashed the headlines. Miss Tennant paid for the first lessons Alice received from Howard Kinsey, but Miss Marble left Kinsey and returned for personal instruction under Miss Tennant.

The story of how Eleanor Tennant raised Alice Marble from seventh to third ranking nationally, saw her hospitalized for 18 months, and convinced her she had the strength and spirit to beat her affliction is a true saga of sport.

Alice Marble got out of a sick bed to become one of the greatest woman tennis players of all time.

Pacific coast women's champion at 18, Eleanor Tennant tired of working for an oil company in San Francisco, and went to Los Angeles where she played with Maurice E. McLoughlin and Billy DeMille.

She sacrificed her amateur standing to take advantage of her first opportunity to teach . . . at the Beverley Hills Hotel. Reinstated as an amateur, she battled Molla Mallory . . . was ranked third nationally. She married . . . was divorced . . . turned professional again.

Miss Tennant went to LaJolla, Calif., to give lessons for three days at a hotel, and wound up staying 10 years as coach at the fashionable Bishop School for girls there.

She was Marion Davies' private teacher . . . is the favorite coach of movie stars.

But Eleanor Tennant prefers to teach and guide youngsters. She handles them with a mixture of directness, patience and humor that is a treat to watch. She studies her subject's personality and makes it blend with his game.

Miss Tennant in reality is Miss Tennis.

Burnside—C.P. Leaders

With perfect records, bowlers from the Burnside and Canadian Pacific Clubs are setting the pace in current cup competitions.

In the Whitney Cup event Burnside has three straight victories while the C.P. trundlers have a similar record in the Cameron Nicol event.

Recent Cameron Nicol matches saw Victoria defeat Victoria West 32 to 26 and Burnside triumph over Lake Hill 37 to 33. In Whitney Cup play Victoria West nosed out Victoria 37 to 36 and Burnside turned back Lake Hill 47 to 30.

In the recent tournament for the Mayor McGavin Plate, Edwards was the winner, defeating Breckenridge in the final 15 to 10.

OTTAWA (CP) — Tommy Shields, sports editor of the Citizen and a member of the sports department the last 12 years, left the Ottawa daily newspaper today to take a commission in the Canadian Active Service Force.

Jack Koffman will be acting sports editor during the absence of Shields, a veteran of the first Great War, former professional hockey player and well known as a sports radio announcer.

Pearson Advances In Quebec Tennis

MONTREAL (CP)—Phil Pearson, former Vancouver star, turned back Dr. Georges Leclerc of Montreal 6-2, 6-1 yesterday in the quarter finals of the men's singles at the Quebec Lawn Tennis Association championships.

Play began in the mixed doubles division with the favored combination of Eleanor Young of Vancouver and Roger Durivage of Montreal advancing through two rounds without dropping a set.

E. Murphy and Winnifred McConnell of Ottawa also advanced and today were to meet Pearson and Jean Milne of Vancouver.

Sailors Boot Away Ball Game

Navy baseballers suffered an acute case of jitters yesterday evening, and as a result went tumbling to a 11 to 6 defeat at the hands of the pace-setting Tillicum Athletics to lose their coveted second-place berth in the Rithet Cup standings to Pitzer and Nex.

Bobbles in the early frames of the fixture by the infield cost the lads in blue the ball game. They were on the tailend of a 11 to 0 score going into the last of the eighth frame. In the eighth and ninth frames the sailors settled down to some heavy slugging, and when the game was over they were just five runs behind. It was a belated rally that won them a big hand from the fans.

Tomorrow night at Athletic Park Pitzer and Nex will endeavor to consolidate their second-place position when they hook up with Eagles.

Sailors trotted Jack Rogers to the hillock to do the heaving. He pitched good ball all the way, and would have made it close had his support been steadier. Rogers making his first appearance on the mound, allowed only seven safeties and fanned nine.

Louis Leonard went the distance on the hillock for the clubmen and was found for 11 hits. Sailors, however, did not start to make their blows count in runs until the last two frames. They bunched a quartette of hits in the eight and made them good for a like number of runs, and added two more runs in another four-hit attack in the ninth. Leonard breezed none. A double putout by Sailor McKinnon was one of the game's highlights. He took Leonard's line drive and then doubled Cooper off the keystone bag. There were two other double killings. Robinson and Barber of Tillicums hit three-baggers.

Score by Innings—

Tillicum Athletics	3 0 3 1 1 2 0 1 0—11
Navy	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 2—6

Batteries—Leonard and Kuwabara; Rogers and Grover.

BACK TO MAJORS—Purchased by the Detroit Tigers of the American League from Seattle Rainiers for a reported $70,000, before the start of the 1939 season, Freddy Hutchinson, above, has been recalled from Buffalo by the Tigers. The young hurler's record for this season is five won and three lost.

Victoria United Squad to Play Cumberland Sunday

Crack Driver Here Saturday

Les Anderson, crack driver from Los Angeles, will be in Victoria Saturday night for the auto races to be staged at the Langford Speedway. This was the announcement made today by promoter Jack Taylor.

The Californian, recognized as one of the hottest throttle pushers on the Pacific Coast, will be at the wheel of the Portland speed buggy owned by Miss Dorothy Gruman, popularly known around the racetracks as "The Duchess."

Other United States drivers coming this week-end will be Jimmy Symes driving No. 5; Claude Walling piloting No. 9 and Bill Scott driving No. 52. The 70 car will be shipped to Victoria. As yet no driver has been secured for the latter.

All the local drivers will have their machines in tip-top shape for the meet and the fans are certain of enjoying another evening of action.

Time trials are set for 7.45.

Rainiers Beat Cubs

In Junior Baseball League play last evening, Tillicum Rainiers scored a 7 to 3 win over Cloverdale Cubs at Beacon Hill Park.

It was Rainiers' fifth win of the season. The game was featured by the batting performance of Abe Wells of the Tillicum lads. He got four hits out of as many trips to the plate. One of the four was a homer with two runners on the sacks.

Oak Bay Tigers won by default from Fernwood Giants.

BASEBALL SCHOOL STARTS SESSIONS

School opened yesterday. Not school where reading, writing and spelling are practised, but a school at Athletic Park where Victoria youngsters can learn the fine points of baseball during the summer months.

This second annual school term, operated under the jurisdiction of the Victoria Baseball Association with the co-operation of the Provincial Recreational Training and Physical Education Department, is open to all boys in Greater Victoria. Last year the classes attracted 150 youngsters and an increased turnout is expected this year. Those wishing to take advantage of the free baseball tutoring are urged to register as soon as possible at the park. Registrations are taken Monday through Friday, both dates inclusive, from 10 to 11 in the morning.

The school classes will be held daily except Saturdays and Sundays until August 30. Classes are divided into five divisions—junior, juvenile A and B, and midget A and B.

POP HAZELL DEAD

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Edward John (Pop) Hazell, for 20 years godfather to Ontario boxers, died yesterday after a heart attack. He had been ill since Christmas. Among Hazell's proteges are Jackie Callura, well-known professional boxer, Angie Callura, Joe Cutia, Johnny Bellback and Al Evans.

Island Final Of Province Cup Series

Victoria United soccermen, in quest of the Province Cup, have a long motor trip facing them Sunday when they travel to Cumberland to oppose the up-island town's soccer pride, Rangers, in the island final of the series. Game will start at 2.30.

The United will be opposing the same team that handed them a 2 to 0 setback here last Saturday in the island final of the Dominion Cup series.

A weak front line was the main cause of the local defeat, but Manager Arthur Poyntz says he will have a stronger attacking line making the trip. He has high hopes of meting out revenge for Saturday's humbling. Noel Morgan will be on hand to take up his forward duties and it is expected that Jimmy Worswick, smart centre forward, will be waiting at Nanaimo to be picked up by the northbound caravan bearing the ball-kickers.

United gained the island final by defeating Victoria West in local play. The winner of Sunday's game will advance to oppose mainland units in the final of the series for soccer supremacy within British Columbia's borders.

Bobby Moss will be guarding the goal for Victoria on Sunday, with Arnie Wilkinson and Bobby Bell forming the defence. Roy Barnes, Glen Robbins and Harold Sage will operate on the halfline, while Morgan, Worswick, Alan Reside, Joe Travis, Ralph Cosier, Cliff Robbins and Tony Hope will be available for forward action.

Baseball

Cleveland Regains Top

United States baseball parks are going to bulge today from force of habit, but the supreme test may be lying in wait for the girders of Briggs Stadium, Detroit.

The Michigan metropolis generally is known as the best baseball town in the land and the fans have something to see there today—a doubleheader between Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians that will decide first place in the American League.

The Tigers had the lead for 24 hours ending yesterday when they lost a 12 to 7 decision to Chicago White Sox in a game in which 11 runs were scored in the last inning.

The Indians regained the lead with a 5 to 2 triumph over St. Louis Browns and now the whole question will come up for argument today. There probably won't be more than 58,000 kibitzers on hand. That's capacity of the park.

Yesterday provided the biggest collection on ninth-inning rallies a baseball fan could ever imagine.

Boston Red Sox bunched six runs in the last of the ninth to edge out Philadelphia Athletics, 12 to 11.

Brooklyn Dodgers reinforced their first-place position in the National League by scoring six times in the last inning to beat New York Giants 7 to 3. Joe Medwick led off in this frame with his second homer in two days and when rookie Peewee Reese got to bat the score was tied and the bases loaded. He caromed a homer off the left field foul pole.

Boston Bees unwound six runs in the ninth to beat the Phillies 8 to 3 in what was to be the first game of a doubleheader. The game was was halted by rain after three scoreless innings.

Chicago Cubs won a see-saw struggle from Pittsburgh Pirates 7 to 5 with three runs the last time they came to bat, the eighth.

COAST LEAGUE

Manager Arnold (Jigger) Statz of Los Angeles, whose tremendous hitters have been failing him too often of late, knows today how to win Coast League ball games. You do it yourself.

Jigger whacked the first ball thrown last night for a double and went on to score the only run of the game, beating Hollywood 1 to 0.

The win, second in a row, put the Angels within one slim percentage point of the movietown team, which leads the second division.

With the exception of Portland, which lost 3 to 1 to the league-pacing Seattle Rainers, all the underdogs won last night. As a result, a blanket could cover five teams in the circuit, and the race for positions in the post-season playoff is wide open.

Sacramento Solons continued their comeback with a 3 to 1 drubbing of San Diego and displaced the Padres for third position.

Tireless Ed Stutz enabled San Francisco to square accounts with Oakland, 7 to 1, in the civil war series of the exposition region.

Ray (Hardluck) Harrell, the Portland Beaver pitcher who has lost more games through no fault of his own than any hurler in the league, dropped a 3 to 1 decision to Seattle.

Qualicum Still Popular With All

Qualicum Beach is a really delightful spot to spend a vacation. It has everything to offer vacationists—natural beauty of surroundings, modern accommodation and a charming hospitality.

The beach of clean white sand extends along the whole shoreline. A wide sand bar makes it an ideal spot for small children to play while grown-ups relax and rest. The water is warm and clear and in this summer month of July the sun shines all day. There are glorious sunsets, then long twilight evenings in which to enjoy this wonderful summerland.

There is sport for everyone at Qualicum Beach. For the golfer, a well-kept, long nine-hole links offers a sporty game. The Big and Little Qualicum Rivers and Horne Lake abound with fighting trout. Grilse and salmon run just off the Beach. For hikers, there are many trails through the woods and into the hills. Strange caves and rock formations offer interesting suggestions of forgotten days. Mt. Arrowsmith, snow-capped, the highest peak on Vancouver Island is within an easy few hours hike from the beach.

Good stores in Qualicum village give a delivery service throughout the community. Hotel accommodation along the whole length of the beach is of the best. Auto camps are completely modern and up-to-date.

HOTELS UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Qualicum Beach Hotel, standing high on a hillside overlooking the sea, is a famous rendezvous for vacationists. This season, it is under new management. Mr. F. G. Walker, formerly assistant manager at the Empress Hotel in Victoria, is in charge. Improvements have been made in the main hotel building and in the cottage wings. Prompt, courteous service greets the visitor and everything is being done to ensure satisfaction and pleasure for all. Qualicum Beach Hotel has its own tennis courts and the golf links is just beyond the hotel grounds. Boats and riding horses are available and guided tours can be arranged for fishing and hiking.

At Sunset Inn there has been a change in management, too that will be of interest to all. Major and Mrs. O. Cavenagh, formerly the popular owners of Glenairley in Sooke, are now at this delightful English Countryside Inn at Qualicum. This in itself assures visitors of a delightful vacation. When it is combined with an ideal situation and magnificent view, comfortable, attractive rooms and suites, excellent meals and service, Sunset Inn has everything the vacationist is looking for. The Inn has a private beach, tennis, badminton and archery courts. Boats and saddle horses are available.

POPULAR AUTO CAMP

Every year, Grandview Camp, situated right on the beach, sees more and more visitors returning once again to its comfortable cabins and cottages. Ideally situated right on the beach, this camp presents "one big happy family look" throughout the whole summer. Cabins of one and two rooms, and de luxe cottages of four and five rooms, are all well furnished with good beds and mattresses, splendid stoves and modern conveniences. A store, lunch counter, soda fountain and a good dance floor all within the camp grounds, offer fun and pleasure for the campers. A safe sandy beach, and boats for hire add to their pleasure. This season too, Grandview Camp has bicycles for hire. A splendid way to explore for many miles in and around Qualicum.

DISTINCTIVE COTTAGE COURT

At the far end of the beach there is Qualicum Beach Bungalow Court. Here a number of well-built cottages with wide verandas and big windows look out over the beach to a wonderful view of snow-capped mountain peaks on the mainland of British Columbia. Every cottage is delightfully furnished with little individual touches that make the visitor immediately feel at home. Every cottage has hot and cold water, a bathroom with shower, dishes and cutlery. Mr. and Mrs. H. Badger, the owners, have provided everything. Nothing for the vacationist to bring but food. A perfect place to relax and enjoy a restful holiday.

Royston Beach Holiday Spot

Looking for a new spot to spend the summer vacation? Try Royston—just a few miles south of Courtenay on the Island Highway. There is good swimming and bathing, a safe beach for children and splendid auto camp accommodation.

From Royston, the whole northern end of Vancouver Island can easily be explored. Comox, Campbell River and Forbes Landing are all within a day's run away, and the Forbidden Plateau is only a few miles up in the mountains.

Royston Beach Auto Camp is completely modern. Situated in a grove of great oak trees, the comfortable green and white cabins look cool and inviting on the hottest day. They are available either furnished or unfurnished. Hot and cold showers, up-to-date sanitation, city water and electric lights make them desirable in every way. There is a private beach and good fishing. Golf courses in near-by Comox and a community hall in the Royston village where dances are held weekly are all part of the many summer attractions at this interesting spot.

Royston offers the holiday spot that is new and different. Try it this summer. Everyone who visits there returns again and again.

To Review Parking Question Once More

On the recommendation of Alderman S. H. Okell the council again referred to the public works committee the matter of parallel parking on Douglas Street, asked that body to canvass the matter thoroughly and hear delegations on the question.

Alderman Ed Williams, public works chairman, accepted the assignment under protest.

Alderman Okell stated he was certain the present system was not satisfactory. He remarked he and others had opposed parallel parking but, at the will of the majority, had agreed to giving it a trial. The trial had been made and proved unsatisfactory. Now a minority blocked reversion back to angle parking. He was of the opinion angle parking at a reduced angle would eliminate much of the opposition to the present scheme.

Mayor McGavin remarked the law permitted the minority to block an amendment.

"If the citizens are not satisfied, there is a day of reckoning coming" he added, stating he was convinced parallel parking was satisfactory.

Summer School

Greater Freedom To Follow War

"When this war is over—in the next four or five years—the forces of freedom will emerge stronger than they have ever been," declared Capt. Elmore Philpott, M.C., to members of the Summer School at Victoria High School today.

He expressed that conviction at the close of an address entitled "The Cross-roads of Destiny."

He emphasized the necessity of realizing the world had entered a new epoch. Nationalism, he said, collapsed in 1914 when the three factors that had carried it successfully to that date from 1491, ceased to exist. Nationalism had been satisfactory when there had been abundant undeveloped lands, when conflict between nations for such lands had been isolated owing to the extent of available country and when those conflicts took the form of inexpensive, small-scale wars.

By 1914 competition became keener, and war became a large scale and expensive business. At that time three late comers, Germany, Italy and Japan entered the modern nationalistic fields.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

The chief trouble with Germany, he said in a digression, was its inferiority complex, its effort to convince itself it was the "big shot" it would like to be.

Capt. Philpott considered the change in the nature of war the most outstanding feature in the termination of the nationalistic age. At Waterloo, he noted, far fewer men were under Wellington's command than there were Canadians alone at the battle of Vimy Ridge in 1917. The gigantic cost of armaments had produced the blitzkreig technique, since even Hitler realized it could not pay him to conduct long campaigns, he said.

At Versailles was signed an unsatisfactory compromise between the idealism of Woodrow Wilson, the political opportunism of Lloyd George and the hard-headed realism of Clemenceau. If any of the three had had his way the world would have been happier today, Capt. Philpott stated.

He characterized the 1920's as the good years producing the peace moves which disintegrated in the "dirty thirties."

The three elements, Communism, Fascism and freedom, emerging from 1918, were still with the world today, he commented.

CONFIDENT NOTE

"I have never felt more sure than I do at this moment—on the eve of the invasion of England—that when this titanic struggle is over, it will not be Communism which emerges, it will not be militaristic Fascism, it will be freedom," he concluded.

As tomorrow's feature the teachers will hear England's noted two-part singers, Viola Morris, soprano, and Victoria Anderson, contralto, in recital, starting at 11.

Yesterday changes in the teaching personnel were announced. H. Cooper and Miss F. Borde have been added as instructors in recreation and physical education classes, and Miss Elizabeth Sovereign and Miss Margaret Humble will assist in one of the other departments. The names of Mrs. Joan Horsfield and Dr. C. B. Conway have been withdrawn from the list of summer school teachers.

BORN AT SEA; LIVED HERE 80 YEARS

Samuel Hugh Shanks, well-known Victoria pioneer and resident of this city for 80 years, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital, in his 87th year. He was born at sea while his parents were on their way from Australia to Chile, and came with them to this city when a boy of seven.

THE LATE S. H. SHANKS

For many years Mr. Shanks engaged in the carpentering and contracting business. He retired about 15 years ago.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. G. M. Havercroft; two sons, S. J. Shanks and R. H. Shanks, all of Victoria; and a sister, Mrs. Sellick in San Francisco. Private funeral will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Friday. Interment in Ross Bay Cemetery. No flowers by request.

BORUP — Rev. Hugh McLeod and Rev. James Hood will officiate at the funeral of Rev. Christian Borup, to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3.30, at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Interment at Royal Oak.

HUGGETT — Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at McCall Bros.' Funeral Home for Mrs. Eleanor Huggett. Ven Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated, and interment was at Colwood, with the following as pallbearers: J. W. Telford, S. Laird, A. Ward and A. Dendoff.

McCRIMMON — Rev. Thomas Menzies conducted funeral services yesterday afternoon in McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Ellen McCrimmon. Interment was at Ross Bay, with the following grandsons of the deceased as pallbearers: L. McCrimmon, Lieut. R. McCrimmon, E. Hall and F. Hall.

PRICE — Naval officers and ratings from Esquimalt were present last night at St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, for memorial services held for John Roberts Price, C.P.O., Royal Canadian Navy, who was lost in the sinking of H.M.C.S. Fraser. Rev. Cyril Venables officiated at the service, during which the hymns "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Now, O Father, Mindful of Thy Love" were sung. A large floral wreath, shaped like an anchor and fashioned from red, white and blue flowers, was later placed on the Memorial at Esquimalt.

CHARLES — Alfred Hugh Charles of 389 King George Terrace died in the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday, aged 66 years. He was born in London, England, and had been a resident of this city for over 30 years. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Florence Mary, at home; two brothers and a sister in England. His only son, Frank, was killed at Vimy Ridge during the Great War. Private services will be conducted by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns on Saturday at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. No flowers, by request.

New Companies

With the holiday shortening the business week, registrations of new companies have been few, the Registrar of Companies office said today.

Three new B.C. companies incorporated were:

The Marshall Manufacturing Co. Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

Oilfields Holding Co. Ltd., $50,000, Vancouver.

Vogue Venetian Blind Co. Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

As an extra-provincial company Lehn & Fink (Canada) Ltd. was registered with authorized capital of $150,000, and offices in Toronto and Vancouver.

Cliff House Boating Club, West Vancouver, was registered under the Societies Act

Recruiting Drive Pushed Faster

Ranks of the Canadian Scottish Regiment have been swelled by 60 recruits in the last 24 hours and recruiting officers say they are hopeful their objective of filling the first battalion will be realized by the end of the week.

A contingent of 30 men from the mainland yesterday afternoon was followed by seven more this morning and another 15 from up-island.

Among the latest Victorians to join is Len Wagstaff, well-known restaurant proprietor and former professional dancer.

As the Scottish were getting ready to complete their first battalion and concentrate on filling the second battalion, the district recruiting depot injected fresh impetus into the province-wide recruiting drive.

Lieut.-Col. H. E. Goodman, district recruiting officer, issued a denial to reports emanating from the east that only skilled craftsmen need apply for enlistment.

"Coming at this time, just when we are putting everything we have behind our present recruiting drive for every man fit to bear arms, 19 to 45 years, this statement becomes rather ridiculous in the face of our own local reports concerning the men needed," said Col. Goodman.

"Naturally, as in any organization, the man fitted for a special job is given the chance at it. There are certain vacancies that might well be filled by skilled men. Certainly the army wants skilled men. But back of all the mechanized units, behind the massive machines, blurred in the dust and smoke of the gasoline-eating units, are the boys with the do-or-die spirit, the lads who bear the main brunt of the battle in the long run; the fighting men of the infantry."

Col. Goodman pointed out that taking the army collectively, the proportion of skilled mechanics and craftsmen was small to the total requirements in manpower.

A large number of troops are needed immediately and urgently, and recruiting will be pushed. There is a place for every category A and B man, and for several category C men, though the need is for men who will be fit for any kind of service anywhere.

There are openings for more than 200 mechanics in this military district. But more than 3,000 ordinary infantrymen are wanted.

Fear Couple Lost in Gulf

The Provincial Police patrol boat No. 9, after a search of waters around Cape Mudge on Vancouver Island's east coast, reported to headquarters here today no trace of Mr. and Mrs. William Finlay and their 28-foot launch in which they left Quathiaski Cove Tuesday, bound for Vancouver with a cargo of four tons of scrap iron.

Archie McKinnon, neighbor of the Finlays, left the cove at the same time in another launch loaded with a similar cargo. He had with him a helper and the two Finlay children, aged 5 and 7.

McKinnon reported that at 11.30 p.m., Tuesday, one mile south and two miles east of Cape Mudge, he saw the lights of the Finlay boat following him. A high wind and heavy sea were causing McKinnon trouble and he started to jettison his cargo of scrap iron.

With this done, he again looked for the Finlay boat's lights. He failed to seem them and returned to search, but was unable to locate the craft.

Dropping Winds Aid Firefighters

Dropping winds gave hundreds of firefighters a chance to hold their own today against forest blazes whipping through timber at two Vancouver Island points.

The dropping wind velocity was accompanied by a rise in humidity, but forestry officials say that conditions in the forests are still extremely hazardous. Most of the timber is "explosively" dry.

More than 100 firefighters are believed to have gained the upper hand over the blaze in Horne Valley, between Port Alberni and the east coast of Vancouver Island settlement of Bowser. Heavy equipment has been brought into play to battle the 2,000-acre outbreak and scores of spot fires in the vicinity also are being dealt with.

The other island fire is blazing through logged-off land south of Cowichan Lake. A few small logging operations are continuing between Menzies Bay and Horne Lake, but most have closed until the fire hazard lessens.

Today's Motor Tourists

"If Canada and the United States joined forces they could hold off the rest of the world," is the opinion of J. J. McDonough of Reno, Nevada, who is visiting Victoria with Mrs. McDonaugh on a vacation motor trip. Mr. McDonough, head of the Sierra Fuel Company of Reno, spoke of the vast armament program that was being carried out in the United States at the present time and the defences that Canada was building. This is Mr. and Mrs. McDonough's first trip to Victoria. They have enjoyed taking in the Marine Drive and a morning at Butchart's Gardens, and look forward to the Malahat trip when they leave town for Nanaimo tomorrow. "We like the people here a lot," Mrs. McDonough remarked. "Everyone seems so cordial. In fact, the farther we came north the nicer the people seemed to be." They are staying at the Craigflower Auto Court.

Boys Register For Sooke Camp

Registrations for both junior and older boys' camping periods at Y.M.C.A. camp Thunderbird at Glinz Lake are starting to come in fast at the association office, View and Blanshard Sirrets, Vivian Shoemaker, boys' work secretary of the "Y" and camp director said today.

Older boys' camp will be held from July 11 to 25, and the junior camping session will be from July 26 to August 5.

Both periods will be open to any boy whether he is a member of the Y.M.C.A. or not. The older boys' camp will take in boys from 12 to 17 years. Exceptions are made in some cases.

A meeting of leaders for the camp will be held Monday night at the "Y" at 7.30 to complete organization and preparation for the opening week today.

Leaders include Ernie Hatch, Maurice Hampton, Pierre Destrube, Jack Syme, Ron McRae and Ollie Goldsmith. C. S. Crosby will be in charge of first aid.

The camp is occupied at the present time by local girls of C.G.I.T. They went under canvas last Monday, and will return to town July 10. Following the junior boys' camp which closes August 5, Anglican girls of the city will make use of the facilities for 10 days.

MANY AMERICANS HERE FOR HOLIDAY

Ferries arriving in Victoria today from United States points carried large lists of passengers for the Fourth of July celebration and hotels reported increased registrations.

The Canadian Pacific boats as well as the Black Ball ferries were crowded with travelers, the majority of them holidaymakers, and cars with U.S. license plates rolled ashore by scores.

Ss. Princess Kathleen, arriving from Seattle at 12.50, carried one of the largest lists of the season, many of whom disembarked here for the holiday and week-end.

Ss. Iroquois, docking here this morning from Seattle and Port Angeles, put ashore 30 cars and 150 passengers, and the Olympic, arriving from Port Angeles at 12.30 had 25 cars and over 100 passengers.

The crowds on the city streets were further augmented as later ferries arrived from the other side.

Serve Overseas

A plea to be given a chance to join the army and go overseas was made to Magistrate H. C. Hall in the City Police Court this morning by Clarence Steverson, charged under the Defence of Canada regulations and also held for escaping police custody.

"I am sorry for what I said. Could I have a chance to join the army and go overseas," Steverson pleaded.

"The charge has been laid and I must deal with it. I cannot make any bargain in court," replied Magistrate Hall.

The case was set for tomorrow for trial after Magistrate Hall said he would recommend the accused be supplied counsel by the Bar Association's committee for legal aid.

NEW CAMP RUSHED FOR ARMY RECRUITS

Military headquarters said today buildings being constructed near the old Colwood race track site will be used as a temporary encampment for troops now being mobilized.

Accommodation at the various other barracks and encampments in this area is overtaxed due to the heavy rush of enlistments in recent weeks. For this reason the new encampment is being rushed to completion.

Heavier Engines, Stronger Bridges

A program of expansion which will call for the expenditure on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway lines of $210,000 by the end of next year, was announced this morning by company officials.

The work will include reinforcement and replacement of bridges on the Island line between here and Wellington to accommodate 20 heavier locomotives which will be used for freight work. These engines, now in use on western Canadian lines, will be brought here on completion of the prairie harvest season and will replace lighter locomotives now in service. They will be a new type for Vancouver Island, known as D-10's, and weigh about 190,000 pounds, 10 to 15 tons more than those at present in use.

About 10 engines will be brought in this year and the balance next year. All will be used for hauling freight.

The construction contract has been awarded the Dominion Bridge Company, and will comprise chiefly the reinforcing of 11 bridges between Victoria and Wellington.

Crews are at present working on the Niagara Canyon trestle on the Malahat. One of the biggest jobs will be the replacing of the bridge over the Koksilah River with a more modern type of structure.

About $150,000 will be spent this year and $60,000 next year.

Tourist Travel Shows Decrease

United States tourist travel to Victoria during the first six months of the year was considerably lower than that of the same period last year, according to figures released today by G. A. Yardley, collector of customs.

During the six-months period ending June 30 last, customs officers at the ports of Victoria and Sidney handled 3,863 foreign cars entering here, which bore 9,315 passengers. Last year 4,287 incoming foreign cars were handled at these ports, bearing 11,170 passengers.

These figures show a 9 per cent drop in foreign car travel and about 16 per cent in the number of passengers. The Royal visit was mainly responsible for the heavy influx last year.

At present Victoria is enjoying a brisk tourist trade and it is the belief that by the end of the holiday period local figures will be in excess of last year's. It was pointed out by local officials that there was a decided slump in tourist travel here at the time of France's capitulation but that it has picked up considerably since.

During June of this year 1,493 foreign cars entered Victoria, bearing 3,777 passengers, while in June of 1939 1,522 cars were handled with 4,070 passengers, a slight decrease. Canadian cars entering the city in June, 1940, were 329, with 768 passengers. In June, 1939, 369 Canadian cars were handled, with 953 passengers.

Local Women Escape

Insulted in Rome, Slip From France

A talented Victoria dancer and musician, Miss Betty Fawcett, who left here about 18 months ago to study in Europe, has arrived in London after harrowing and thrilling wartime experiences on the continent, according to word received here this morning from England.

With her mother, Mrs. Edgar Fawcett, formerly of Collinson Street, Miss Fawcett was in Italy until the end of May. Life of English-speaking people in Rome was made unbearable by young Italian hoodlums, she reported to Gladys Arnold, Canadian Press correspondent in London and former resident of Victoria.

Miss Fawcett said every time she spoke English in the streets of Rome her life was threatened by Fascists, who sometimes carried coffins covered with the flags of Britain and France.

Leaving Italy Miss Fawcett, her mother and her cousin, Bunny Carter of Victoria, went to Paris. When the French capital was threatened by advancing Nazi hordes they left on foot and traveled with thousands of other refugees.

For three days and nights they had hardly any food and water and at night slept under trees, often in pouring rain. All their clothes, with the exception of what they were, they were forced to leave in Paris.

Mrs. Fawcett, formerly Miss Zella Carter of Victoria, daughter of pioneer Victorians, is the widow of Edgar Fawcett Jr., son of Edgar Fawcett Sr., old-time Victoria resident and well-known author on local historical subjects. Betty's father died 20 years ago from effects of the 1914-1918 war. He left here with the 62nd Battery, C.F.A.

'CURTAIN CALL' PLAZA ROMANCE

Hollywood's newest pair of talented young players, Barbara Read and John Archer, are brought together for the first time in RKO Radio's "Curtain Call," romantic drama now at the Plaza Theatre.

Both scored notably in their first independent leading roles, Miss Read in the recent "Married And In Love," and Archer in "Career."

In their current offering, Miss Read plays a stage struck small town girl and Archer is seen as her salesman boy friend.

COLMAN FEATURED IN KIPLING STORY

Ronald Colman's first starring vehicle since his recent success in "If I Were King," Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed," opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Colman is supported by a brilliant cast which includes Walter Huston, Ida Lupino, Muriel Angelus and Dudley Digges. There are also over 400 others who re-enact battles fought in the Sudan during the closing years of the last century, between the British and the native warriors known as Fuzzy-Wuzzies.

ACTOR INGRAM KEEN HORSEMAN

Although everyone taking part in westerns has to be an accomplished rider, Jack Ingram, well-known screen actor, is famous in Hollywood for his exceptional ability as an equestrian. Between pictures, he very profitably makes use of his time by teaching stars of the movie colony how to stay on a horse gracefully.

Ingram will be seen in support to Gene Autry and Smiley Burnette in Republic's "Mountain Rhythm," which starts today at the Rio Theatre.

HARDWICKE IN MYSTERY PICTURE

Said to reach a new high in camera wizardry, "The Invisible Man Returns," Universal's weird mystery drama, is now playing at the Cadet Theatre. The distinguished actor, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, heads a cast that includes Vincent Price, in the title part, Nan Grey, John Sutton, Cecil Kellaway and Alan Napier.

'House Across Bay' Dominion Booking

Highly emotional drama and honest-to-goodness thrills are in store for film-goers when they witness Walter Wanger's new film production, "The House Across the Bay," which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre, with George Raft and Joan Bennett heading an imposing cast.

This new picture not only introduces a new romantic team composed of Raft and Miss Bennett, but it brings the beautiful Miss Bennett forward in one of her most varied and exciting roles to date.

Miss Bennett, in a word, looking more ravishing than ever, plays a straight dramatic role—and she does it stirringly and brilliantly. In addition, the star does her first dancing on the screen—a new type of rhumba which required tireless practice and intricate studio rehearsals.

As for George Raft, his impersonation of Steve Larwitt, a latterday gentleman of means and ambitions, is as deft as it is clever.

'BUCK BENNY RIDES AGAIN'

Buck Benny rides again, and Fred Allen rides him in the strawberry-jammed saga of the west "Buck Benny Rides Again," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre. Jack goes west in furtherance of his mile-a-minute campaign to win the heart of lovely Ellen Drew, who has her heart set on cowboys.

The cast of "Buck Benny Rides again" includes Phil Harris, Virginia Dale, Lillian Cornell, Dennis Day, Rochester, Andy Devine and the Merriel Abbott Dancers. Some of the song hits are "Drums in the Night," "Say It Over and Over Again," "My, My" and "My Kind o' Country."

CAPITOL

The life and loves of Lillian Russell have been made into one of the greatest pictures by Producer Darryl F. Zanuck. It is now at the Capitol Theatre.

Hollywood's "Lillian Russell" has everything. Drama, comedy, pathos, action, color—all have been deftly blended to make a superb picture.

Many of the popular song hits of her day include "After the Ball Is Over," "Rosie, You Are My Posie," "My Evening Star" and "The Band Played On."

FIRST IN SNIPE CLASS—P.D.Q., above, led the field for snipes competing in the P.I.Y.A. regatta at Cowichan Bay. The P.D.Q. was skippered in the regatta events by its owner and builder, Ormond Griffin of Victoria carrying Alan Carter as crewman.

Victoria Juniors Win at Regatta

Junior sail-handlers of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club held the spotlight for snipes at the P.I.Y.A. regatta — Finishing one, two, three in the snipe class were P.D.Q., skippered by Ormond Griffin; Pelican, J. Moran, and Ishkoodah, A. C. F. Evans.

The only other unit of the Victoria club figuring in the win column in yesterday's events was the sloop Shangri-la, Commodore E. P. (Ned) Ashe, which defeated High Ho in the Special Haliday event.

Vancouver's R Class sloop maintained her brilliant showing to beat the Seattle challenger Sir Tom in double-header yesterday for the Isherwood Cup.

By winning the third race today the Lady Van will retain possession of the Isherwood trophy, as well as the Lipton trophy which the Wylie-piloted craft previously cinched, three straight.

Winners of yesterday's races, in the order of finishing, were: Isherwood Trophy (two events) —Lady Van, Sir Tom.

A class cruiser—Angelica, Redjacket, Spirit II.

Special sloops—Oslo, Riowna.

International cruisers—Cresset, Oscar IV, Tola.

B class cruisers—Lady Alice, Ellasaid, Nelmar.

Spencer class — Ariki, Carita, Danny.

C class cruisers — Benora, Genessa, Cirrius.

Haliday cruise — Shangri-La, High Ho.

Stars — Clear Sky, Windor, Chop Chop.

Flatties—Stout Fella, Whippet II, Mary Ann.

Snipes—P.D.Q., Pelican, Ishkoodah.

Comets—Lady Vit, Kafapura, Hold Tight.

X class — Infanta, Somaloo, Truant.

Prizes won during the regatta will be presented this afternoon.

TRANSPORT BOARD 'TROUBLE SHOOTER'

VANCOUVER (CP) — The working methods of Canada's Board of Transport Commissioners since its inception 36 years ago was outlined today by its chairman, Col. J. A. Cross, in a luncheon address to the Transportation and Customs Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Col. Cross said the board acts as a "trouble-shooter" when difficulties arise in railway, telegraph, telephone and express operations.

Up to the end of 1939, the commissioners handled a total of 118,630 applications and complaints. Approximately 94 per cent of these were disposed of without a formal public hearing. The board is presently concerned with the consideration of airlines in northwest Canada. It seeks to eliminate overlapping of lines to free more airmen and planes for the war effort.

The commissioners concluded their sitting at Vancouver yesterday and will proceed to Winnipeg for a final session July 8.

NEW WINKLEIGH IS COMMISSIONED

Replacement of the British freighter Winkleigh, which was sunk by a German submarine September 6 last year while bound from Victoria to the United Kingdom, is announced.

The officers and crew of the old Winkleigh, totaling 37, were picked up by the Dutch liner Statendam.

Among them was young Philip J. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lewis of 232 Sims Avenue, Victoria, who shipped as pantry boy for England, intending to enter school at Reading.

The Winkleigh was owned by the Tatem Steam Navigation Co. Ltd.

It is interesting to note that another Winkleigh has been built and commissioned to resume the seasonal voyages of her predecessor to B.C. ports for lumber and grain.

Tugs Overhauling

The tug Dola, of the Dola Towing Company, is at the Victoria Machinery Depot today for annual overhaul and minor repairs.

The tug J. W. P., owned by MacFarlen Bros., is also at the V.M.D. for engine repairs.

C.P.R. Engineer Dies

WINNIPEG — William Atlee James, retired assistant chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway, western lines, who was engineer in charge of the building of the Connaught Tunnel through Rogers Pass in the Selkirks, died yesterday at his home in Lydiatt, Man.

Mr. James was associated with most of the western construction work of the C.P.R., which he joined in 1898. His early railway history extended to the Columbia and Kootenay and the Columbia and Western Railways. He was prominently connected with the survey of most of the new Canadian Pacific Railway lines between 1900 and 1904 when he became divisional engineer at Kenora in charge of the double tracking of the line between Winnipeg and Fort William.

These lies and rumors have suggested that we have had some intention of entering into negotiations with the German and Italian governments. Any idea of that should be completely swept out of the way by the very drastic and grievous action we have felt ourselves compelled to take. No, there is no thought of negotiation.

There is no thought here I say in this country, whose love of peace has been proved so long—there is no thought here of peace. We will, on the contrary, prosecute the war with the utmost vigor, by all the means that are open to us, until the righteous purposes for which we entered upon it have been in all respects fulfilled.

CARIBOO GOLD PRODUCTION

VANCOUVER (CP) — Production at Cariboo Gold Quartz for the first four months of the present fiscal year totaled 12,823 fine ounces of gold, valued at $493,685, officials of the company reported here yesterday. A total of 34,860 tons of ore went through the mill.

The report of the managing director, R. R. Rose, shows net profit for the first quarter, ending on April 30, was $74,592 The gross income, less mineral taxes and mint charges, was $344,912 and the cost of production was $204,653.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheat futures prices finished their eighth consecutive session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today without climbing from pegged levels set by the government May 14.

The United States Independence Day holiday kept Chicago traders idle and prevented quotations being received from the Buenos Aires market.

Weather conditions remained fair and warm over most sections of western Canada's spring wheat belt and although rain is needed in some areas, most grain observers regarded the wheat position as favorable for rapid growth of the new crop.

THESE WOMEN! By d'Alessio

OUT OUR WAY— By Williams

Uncle Ray

IV—CHAMBERLAIN'S LOVE OF PEACE

The autumn of 1938 was a fateful time. Europe came close to war, thanks to Hitler and the Sudetenland.

The Sudetenland was an edge of Czechoslovakia. The little republic needed it because its mountains formed a wall against an attack by Germany. There were strong Czech forts in the mountains.

The Sudetenland, in past times, had belonged to Austria-Hungary, not to Germany. Yet Hitler wanted it. He said the people spoke German, and should belong to the Third Reich. He also said, "I do not want any Czechs," meaning he would be content with the German-speaking parts of Czechoslovakia.

The Czechs did not believe his words.

For years Hitler had been driving his workers to turn out cannon, machine guns, airplanes and other weapons of war. He and the rest of the Nazis boasted that they had the most fearful air fleet in the world.

France had promised to help the Czechs in case they were attacked by Germany. Russia had promised to help if France did. Great Britain had not made such a treaty, but it was believed she would help France in case of war.

It looked as if war were almost certain, but a way was found to stop it before it started. Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain made an airplane journey to Germany to talk with Hitler. Later he and Daladier of France met Hitler and Mussolini at Munich.

A way to patch up the trouble was found. Hitler was given the German-speaking parts of Czechoslovakia, but he made a solemn promise that he would not seize the rest of the country.

Russia was left out of the meeting. This started a "coolness" between Stalin and the French and British.

Chamberlain has been blamed for the bargain. Yet there is one thing about it which surely is in his favor. With all his heart, he tried to keep peace in Europe. He tried as hard as one man could try to save the white race from the horror and shame of war.

Hitler had given his word that the little republic would be allowed to stay free. Would he keep his word?

ANSWER: South. The weathercock faces the direction from which the wind is blowing.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My friend Mary is engaged to a fine young man, well educated, talented, with no bad habits, and successful in business. He is kind to her and I believe he loves her. He takes her out to places of amusement and spends money on her, but he never give her anything that she could keep or treasure. He thinks spending money on flowers is a waste, and Christmas and birthday gifts are foolish.

Mary lives with a group of other girls whose boy friends send them corsages when they are going out to a big party, and it hurts Mary's pride that Bill never sends her any and she has to buy her own. Do you think this attitude of Bill's will interfere with Mary's happiness after they are married? MARY'S BEST FRIEND.

Answer—Depends on how Mary can take it. If she is philosophical enough to realize that Bill is just one of the hard-boiled sort without an ounce of sentiment in his composition, she may comfort herself with the knowledge that it is not lack of affection that keeps him from showing her any of the delicate little attentions that women set such store by, but lack of finess in his own nature. He is saying it with beefsteaks instead of orchids, and he expects her to be satisfied with that.

He will make the kind of husband who is a good provider, but a poor lover. He will pay his wife's bills, but the chances are that he will never give her a cent to spend as she pleases, and life with him will be safe but deadly dull, with no thrills, no romance, none of the pleasant little surprises that give pep to married life.

DOROTHY DIX.

No Apartment On St. Charles St.

The zoning by-law amendment which would prevent unrestricted conversion of homes in the St. Charles Street region into apartment houses passed its preliminary readings at yesterday's meeting of the City Council.

Before it is finally adopted, however, interested parties will be given a chance to voice their opinions at a public hearing in the council chamber on Monday afternoon, July 15, at 3.

The zoning board of appeal will be notified of the action and the city building inspector was instructed to withhold a permit for converting premises at 906 into an apartment for 15 days.

The lands and zoning committee, sponsors of the amendment, reported on correspondence for and against the proposed conversion at 906 St. Charles as well as opinions from delegations heard on the matter.

The proposed amendment, which would restrict conversions unless such were approved by 65 per cent of the people resident within 750 feet of the boundaries of the lot on which the conversion was planned, was read. The approval of the 65 per cent would have to be secured by the interests seeking permission to make the changes.

Alderman Ed Williams held the latter point would entail additional trouble to the person seeking the conversion.

The amendment, said Alderman Dewar, would not prevent conversions if such were not detrimental to the districts in which they were contemplated.

RAISES MINORITY POINT

If the rule that the majority should be satisfied were maintained, where, asked Alderman Williams, did he, the mayor and Alderman Dewar stand in relation to parallel parking on Douglas Street? They are three members of the four-member minority blocking restitution of angle parking on that thoroughfare.

Alderman Archie Wills suggested the amendment was needed to protect the interests of the people in the highly-taxed area and to assure that nothing was "put over" before the public became aware of it.

W. H. Davey, speaking for those opposed to the conversion at 906 St. Charles Street, stated people of means were needed to maintain the large homes in that locality. If one commercial undertaking, like an apartment, entered, the value of the property would depreciate, owners would move to Oak Bay and the whole assessment in the area would be destroyed. He held, however, that the by-law should be sufficiently elastic to permit certain conversions if such were approved by adjoining residents.

DELAY SOUGHT

J. A. Moxam, owner of 906 St. Charles, who is seeking permission to convert the premises, asked adjournment for two weeks on the question to give him time to secure a petition in support of his aims. There were apartments and boarding houses already operating in the locality, he said.

Alderman Dewar explained a public hearing would be necessary if the by-law were introduced and said objections to the amendment could be heard then.

The amendment was introduced and carried through its preliminary readings.

City to Give Training Plane

The acting deputy minister for air has knowledged Victoria's offer of a $10,000 grant to assist Canada's war effort and has suggested purchase of a training plane as the most suitable manner in which the money can be spent. Word to that effect was contained in a letter addressed to Mayor Andrew McGavin and read at yesterday's City Council meeting.

The acting deputy minister stated the question had been turned over to him by the Prime Minister's office to which the offer was made through the mayor during his recent trip to Ottawa.

Formal authority for the expenditure will now be sought by the city and any residue from the purchase will be turned over to the finance committee to devote to some other war purpose.

The letter acknowledging the offer conveyed to the city and citizens the department's appreciation of the patriotism and generosity expressed in the gift and endorsed the suggestion of Air Commodore A. E. Godfrey that a training plane be purchased. Such a plane would be delivered speedily to a training centre and carry a plaque announcing it to be the gift of the city.

In reply to question by Alderman John A. Worthington, Mayor McGavin stated such machines cost between $7,500 and $8,000.

The alderman then introduced the motion approving the purchase and turning the residue over to the finance committee for allocation to some other war objective.

Motorbikes for Cavalry

OTTAWA (CP)—Two Canadian cavalry units have been authorized to train on motorcycles and are expected to begin the new training soon, according to an announcement by the National Defence Department.

The units are the 17th Hussars of Montreal and the Governor-General's Horse Guards of Toronto.

Welfare Office Made Permanent

Overriding the objections of Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman John A. Worthington the City Council by a 7 to 3 vote yesterday placed members of the city welfare office on the basis of permanent employees.

The action was taken as Mayor McGavin informed the council he would call shortly for reorganization of the department by the city comptroller.

Alderman W. H. Davies stayed with the mayor and Alderman Worthington in opposition on the vote.

In the affirmative were Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, Archie Wills, Ed Williams, S. H. Okell, B. J. Gadsden, D. D. McTavish and T. W. Hawkins. Alderman W. L. Morgan was absent.

The motion carried after one amendment to table the proposal for one week and another to hoist it six months had been beaten.

SAYS DOORS TO CLOSE

"I fail to see that a recommendation of this kind should come before the council after hearing the newspapers report say after August 1 there'll be no direct relief in British Columbia," said the mayor as the recommendation came in the form of a relief committee report.

Such statements, Alderman Hawkins countered, merely meant relief recipients would have to register. Later he said only a certain class of recipient would be excluded.

The mayor repeated the resolution should not be submitted at a time when the relief department doors were about to be closed.

"It's not right," declared Alderman Worthington.

"Whether we like it or whether we don't like it, whether the government likes it or whether the government doesn't like it, we are going to have relief in this city and every other major city in Canada," declared Alderman Dewar. "And as long as there is going to be relief I fail to see why the office workers should not be made permanent employees."

The mayor claimed the cart was before the horse. Reorganization should be undertaken before the move to make the office permanent was carried through, he held.

DOING WELFARE WORK

Alderman McTavish, relief chairman, stated the department was doing a large amount of welfare work as well as distributing relief. It was kept busy, he added.

Alderman Worthington protested the overhead, citing it at $29,000, "the biggest we've got."

He and the mayor thought the motion should be withdrawn.

Had it not been for the watchful eye of E. G. Snowden, relief officer, and his assistants, relief would have cost the city a great deal more than it had done, said Alderman Dewar.

There had been an undercurrent of discrimination against the relief office, declared Alderman Gadsden.

Alderman Williams paid tribute to the department and said the change would hurt no one.

Alderman Worthington replied by quoting increased superannuation costs entailed.

Alderman Wills listed some of the welfare and social agency work that had been handed over to the department said the handling of relief was only part of its work. He also referred to certain discriminations.

WORK LESS, PAID MORE

"You've got a lot of departments that are not doing as much work and are getting better pay," he stated.

Alderman Hawkins, supporting the resolution, stated the staff had been reduced by five during the last nine months.

The mayor announced his intention of calling for reorganization of the department.

"Have you ever served on the relief committee?" asked Alderman Wills.

"No, and I don't want to," the mayor replied.

"I didn't think so," said Alderman Wills, adding it was necessary to serve on that body to appreciate the department's work. He thought the comptroller did not take as much interest in the welfare office as he might.

Alderman Davies also thought there had been discrimination against the office.

Alderman Okell thought the department entitled to consideration.

City Council Topics

High License By-law Application Limited

In the opinion of F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, Victoria's special by-law permitting the city to set license fees up to $150 every six months for firms carrying on their business outside the city, cannot touch concerns operating prior to enactment of the by-law.

That opinion was given to the council yesterday by Mr. Shaw who stated application of the higher levy against a certain dry-cleaning firm could not be enforced. Such action, he said, would be discriminatory. It could, however, be applied to any new firm coming into the city.

The by-law was originally passed in compliance with the representations of certain dry-cleaners who objected to a cut-rate firm doing business here and sending its work to Vancouver.

A copy of the opinion will be sent to the license inspector.

Six land sales were approved on the recommendation of the lands committee. A lot on the east of Bank Street between Brighton and Quamichan was sold for $50, another on the east of Richmond between Quamichan and Lane for $200, a third on the west of Shakespeare between Denman and Pembroke for $150, a fourth on the north of Vining between Stanley and Belmont for $200, a fifth on the north of Despard for $750 and a sixth on the south of Pendergast between Vancouver and Cook for $200. Demolition of premises on Collinson Street, once the home of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, was ordered. Seven other demolitions were approved on the recommendation of the sanitary inspector.

Mayor McGavin stated he had received a copy of a Royal Visit book called "Merry America." Alderman B. J. Gadsden moved a copy be purchased for the city archives.

"Where are the archives, Mr. Mayor?" asked Alderman Hawkins.

"I don't know—Up in the loft," the mayor replied, looking toward the ceiling.

Acknowledgement of the receipt of $69.75 donated to Canada's war effort by the Victoria Japanese Association and forwarded by Mayor Andrew McGavin to Ottawa, was made in a letter from the acting Minister of National Defence.

Use of city parks for its civilian physical fitness campaign was granted the "Pro-Recs" organization by the council.

By resolution and by standing vote the City Council yesterday paid tribute to the memory of the men of H.M.C.S. Fraser lost off Bordeaux, voiced condolence to relatives and expressed appreciation for the courage shown by those involved in the accident and those assisting in the rescue of survivors. The motion was introduced by Alderman Wills and seconded by Alderman Okell.

Resignation of Ilma Merkley, who leaves the city engineer's department for household duties, was accepted.

The city will proceed with improvement of South Park playground to the extent of the $700 allocated for that work, the council decided. Action on the matter was sought by the school board.

Reprinting of a City of Victoria $500 debenture to replace one stolen from the I.O.O.F. was authorized on the recommendation of the city comptroller.

A. F. Taylor, senior clerk in the assessor-collector's department, was granted leave of absence to join His Majesty's forces under the usual provisions accorded civic employees leaving for that purpose.

To accelerate traffic on Pandora Avenue, the signs attached to poles on Pandora Avenue near Fernwood, calling for a speed of not more than 15 miles an hour, will be removed until the day before High School resumes its sessions. Such action was approved on Alderman Ed William's suggestion.

Specifications for repairs to plate glass windows in the city welfare office will be drafted by the city building inspector and tenders will be called for the work.

A fair wage clause is included in any contract drawn up by the city, but the city can exercise little control over contractors doing the work themselves, the council decided at its meeting yesterday. The opinion was voiced in reply to a letter from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council protesting low-wage scales allegedly allowed on lamp standard painting and another item. Lamp standards were done by contract by a young man and his brother, Alderman Hawkins stated. The matter, other aldermen stated, was covered by provincial minimum wage legislation. Alderman Wills suggested the labor council forward details of low wage charges to the City Council.

Approval was given the mayor of Brandon's resolution calling for the collection of scrap for Canadian war purposes.

The letter of the Victoria branch, Defence of Canada League, expressing concern over the lack of protection on the city water supply system, was referred to the water board.

The Gyro Club was commended for its charity golf feature in Macdonald Park, thanked for the contribution it made to the Queen Alexandra Solarium, released from the agreement it made with the city for use of the park and informed the pitch was in excellent condition. The release was sought and details of the contest was outlined in a letter from the club.

The water board was asked for a report on the request of Cameron Investment and Securities Co. Ltd., for improved water pressure for the Cameron Lumber Company.

The council approved July 16 and 17 as the dates for the proposed "copper trail," to be sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Force.

H. Cooley and Son were given permission to erect a canopy for the Dugan building.

Tenders for a car for the engineer's office were referred to the water board, the public works committee and the purchasing agent with power to act. The police commission, electric lights committee and purchasing agent were asked to deal with bids for a new stop-and-go signal.

Alderman W. H. Davies' motion, calling for placing of collection boxes at various locations throughout the city for donations towards Canada's war effort was approved and the celebrations committee was given jurisdiction over the collections.

Action on the proposed rezoning of property adjacent to the northwest corner of Cook and Fairfield was tabled for a week.

Air Raid Recesses

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill proposed today that parliament adopt special rules permitting it to take immediate recess in the event of air raid alarms while it is sitting.

The dairy industry says that London had milk bars 200 years ago—and the cow was kept behind the bar.
